A GAMBLER'S WINNING.

John Condon Compelled to Pay Back to Rhoda E. Reed, of Logansport, $1,300.

Mr. John Condon, a former Fort Wayne boy, is one of the few fellows who have prospered at the gaming table. His rooms at Logansport and Chicago are familiar to the fraternity, so that this clipping from the Logansport Pharos will interest:

"In 1885 Rhoda E. Reed commenced suit in the Cass circuit court to recover $1,300 from John Condon, claiming that her husband, Noble K. Reed, had lost that amount while wrestling with the tiger at Condon's gambling rooms in this city. Mrs. Reed set forth in her complaint that the money belonged to her and that the partner of her joys and sorrows had no right to squander it in that manner. The case was warmly contested on both sides and attracted considerable attention both at home and abroad. When the time finally arrived for the jury to return a verdict, they decided in favor of Mrs. Reed, and recommended that she recover the full amount of her claim. Condon appealed the case to the supreme court and has again been defeated, that tribunal having sustained the verdict of the lower court. The high authorities declare that in case any person who, by betting on a game shall lose to any one any money or valuables, may recover the same with costs of suit within six months after the date of such loss. It is also provided that should the losing party fail to bring suit within the time prescribed it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to conduct the suit and recover the money for the benefit of the wife or minor children, and in case there are none for the benefit of the common schools.

Condon is evidently tried of Logansport, for he is disposing of his fine stock farm there to shake Hoosier dust off his shoes

DARING BURGLARY.

Thieves Rob a Merchant of $1,000 Worth of Goods.

HICKSVILLE, O., March 2.—Thieves entered the store of Burt Morris sometime Wednesday night, by removing a panel in the rear door, and carried off $1,000 worth of silks and plushes. No clew has yet been obtained to the whereabouts of the goods or thieves, and bloodhounds are being secured to put on their track. It is the general belief that the goods did not go out of the city. The store was formerly the property of J. A. Gingery, who sold it to Burt Morris, a Toledo traveling salesman, about a month ago.

There are two forms of chronic rheumatism; one in which the joints are swollen and red without fever, and the appetite and digestion good, in the other the joints are neither red nor swollen, but only stiff and painful. In either form Salvation Oil may be relied on to effect a cure. It kills pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

NO PEACE YET!

The Strike on the Burlington road Still Continues—The Brotherhood Working Desperately.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Information obtained from persons whose connection with the strike gives the weight of authority to their words has it that the strike will either be declared off, or both sides will settle down to a long and bitter contest of their respective strenghths. Through the efforts of George E Dewiler, the editor of the Knights of Labor; President Perkins, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and Chiefs Arthur and Sargent were brought together in President Perkin's room at the Grand Pacific, and a conference of several hours in length held, during which all the different phases of the strike and the existing differences between the company and the brotherhoods were gone over and carefully discussed. While no definite conclusions were reached, yet a number of the cobwebs that had blinded the eyes of both sides were swept away and a clear and unobstructed view of the situation obtained.

Master Workman Cahill, of the district assembly to which belong the Reading and Philadelphia striking engineers, was here making terms between the Knights and the Brotherhood. As a result, Mr. Arthur then sent the following:

Edward Kent, New York, Chairman of the Executive Board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers:

"Go to Philadelphia at once and use your influence to get all Brotherhood engineers who took the places of the Reading strikers to leave the service of the company, furnishing them with the financial support of the Brotherhood. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy are using the strikers to beat us in conflict and we must checkmate them.

(Signed), P. M. ARTHUR.

Another telegram was sent by Mr. F. P. Sargeant, saying: "I will pay them until they can find employment elsewhere, and allow the men now out to return to work. By doing this the bad feeling now existing will be obliterated, and will assist us to win our struggle with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy."

THE STRIKE ON THE A. & P. ROAD.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 2.—The strike of conductors and brakemen on the Atlantic and Pacific road is complete throughout the entire line and business on the road is virtually suspended. The west bound passengers coming into Albuquerque are sent to California, via. the Southern Pacific. The strikers are perfectly quiet and orderly. The strike effects about seven hundred men, the majority of whom are married.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 2.—Thirty engineers, formerly on the Reading system, passed through here this morning enroute to Chicago.

THE BROTHERHOOD'S RESOURCES.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 2.—B. W. Vedder, chairman of the general grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on the Gould system, said: "We have $125,000 in the treasury, and when this sum is exhausted a $5 assessment can be levied every fifteen days on the working members of the Brotherhood. We have 26,000 members and we are determined to win this strike. Other roads may be involved if the strike is prolonged, but no trouble is anticipated on the Missouri Pacific. There are 842 engineers on the Gould roads, and 812 are Brotherhood engineers."

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Mr. Arthur and the officials of the Burlington road both report no important development in the strike situation. Mr. Morton, general passenger agent, said to-day that their passenger service was practically where it was before the strike and that they were moving freight on every division line to-day. He says that not one of the Reading men, whom they engaged to take the strikers' places, has yet deserted.

At the brotherhood headquarters it was learned that men had been sent to the Pennsylvania region to-day to persuade the brotherhood men on the Reading road to carry out their part of the bargain made between Chief Arthur and the Knights of Labor. It was also learned that unless the Northwestern, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago and Alton and the Chicago and Illinois roads cease aiding the Burlington in their passenger business, a strike would be ordered on all these lines to-morrow afternoon.

STILL RECRUITING.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The work of recruiting engineers and firemen for the Burlington railroad is still in progress.

AT READING.

READING, Pa., March 2.—The order to the Brotherhood of Engineers and Firemen, who took the places of the Knights of Labor on the Reading road, to quit work has not yet been officially received by the men here.

Base Ball.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The meeting of delegates from the National Base Ball league is being held here to-day. The morning session was secret. The schedule committee report recommended 140 instead of 126 games. Chicago is the only club opposed to the change. They also proposed to begin the season two days earlier than last year.

County Clerk S. S. Koler, of Whitely county, is in the city.

MICHIGAN STORMS.

The Worst Snow Storm of the Season Prevails Throughout Michigan —Railroads Blockaded.

MARQUETTE, Mich., March 2.—All the upper peninsular railroads are blocked by one of the severest gales and snow storms ever known here. It has snowed continuously for nearly twenty-four hours and a heavy wind has drifted it badly. The storm is still raging and reaches the entire length of Lake Superior and extends well down in the southern peninsular, where eighteen inches has fallen.

MANCELONA, Mich., March 2.—About eighteen inches of snow fell yesterday, the greatest amount that has fallen here in one day for years. The snow has drifted six or seven feet deep. It is still blowing and snowing hard.

MACKINAW CITY, March 2.—The worst snow storm of the season prevailed here yesterday. Eighteen inches of snow fell and drifted all along the railroads and trains are being delayed.

WANTS A PENSION.

Mrs. Hooker's Reasons for Asking that She be Granted a Pension.

ELKHART, March 2.—Mrs. Hooker, a well known woman who has made Elkhart her home for a number of years, has appeared before the pension board here, and applied for a pension on the ground that she was a regularly-enlisted soldier of the late war, served three years, and was twice wounded while in service. She had been married but a short time when the war broke out, and was determined to accompany her husband, who was a first lieutenant. To facilitate the matter, she induced a young man who resembles her in general appearance (she is a decidedly masculine-looking woman) to undergo the examination and, when the opportunity offered, reported for duty in his place. Her enlistment took place in Ohio, and her assumed name was Brown. Mrs. Hooker is familiarly known here as "Colonel," and her application excites much interest. She talks of preparing a book of war reminiscences.

CHAMBERLAIN GONE.

He Leaves Behind Him a Pleasant Impression.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has left Washington for New York and London, by way of Philadelphia. Since he has been here he has been given numerous dinners by many prominent society ladies, and has received many social courtesies at their hands. As he could not reciprocate, there being no ladies in his party, he made several very handsome presents to the ladies who had entertained him. Toilet articles in silver and ivory and various other expensive knick-knacks accompanied his P. P. C. cards or were delivered by one of his secretaries. Mr. Chamberlain also had a photograph taken of himself and his two secretaries and scattered them around quite lavishly among his friends before leaving.

Why Miss Hamilton Took Laudanum.

WABASH, March 2.—Daisy Hamilton, a servant girl employed at the National hotel in this city, who recently came here from Kokomo, attempted to commit suicide by taking an ounce of laudanum. The act was precipitated by the refusal of a colored lad at the hotel to accompany her to church, after which she declared that death would be welcome. The girl was kept alive by means of powerful antidotes, though to-day her condition is still critical.

Corneel Cottisippin, a Miami Indian, was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years yesterday for stealing wheat. His companion in crime, Chas. Marks, also an Indian, is a wealthy young farmer and is now in the penitentiary.

Rich Farmer Killed.

TERRE HAUTE, March 2.—A message from Paris, Edgar county, reports that last evening David Wetzel, of Wetzel Station, Edgar county, while trying to get on the north bound passenger train on the C., V. and C. road, slipped and fell under the wheels. Both legs were cut off below the knees. He died three hours afterward from the shock. Wetzel was a very wealthy farmer. The town where he lived was named after him. He leaves a widow and three sons.

The Decision of the Courts Against the Sharon Heirs.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The supreme court has denied the petition of the Sharon heirs for a rehearing of the case in which the lower court decided that Sarah Althea Hill, now Mrs. Judge Terry, was legally married to the late Senator Sharon.

Reducing Rates.

ST. LOUIS, March 2.—Chairman Midgeley has been notified that the Burlington has issued a tariff, reducing the rate of packing house products from the Missouri river points to Chicago to ten cents per 190 pounds.

The Weather.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Indiana: Stationary temperature, threatening weather and rain or snow, followed by colder fair weather.

BAD BULLETS!

They Are Exchanged at a Country School House and Several Persons are Killed and Injured.

ABERDEEN, Miss., March 2.—A terrible battle occurred between the citizens of the Fifth district of Monroe county, fifteen miles north of Aberdeen, Monday afternoon. It was brought on by the expulsion from the public school at Rome of one or two pupils.

The friends of both sides met at the school house Monday afternoon. In the melee that followed James Bailey, jr., fired six charges from his pistol, instantly killing R. A. Rutledge, and wounded his son Edward so seriously that he died the following day. He also inflicted a severe flesh wound upon Benjamin English and unintentionally shot his younger brother through the finger. Bailey received a glancing bullet against a rib and a slight cut in his back from a knife.

A LIFE CONVICT AT THIRTEEN.

Johnnie Beal Begins His Term for Brutally Murdering His Mother.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 2.—John A. Beal, a boy aged only thirteen years, has been received at the penitentiary, his sentence being for life. About eight months ago the boy's mother, who lived in Preble county, was found murdered, and her body frightfully mangled. The boy was suspected, but his coolness allayed suspicion.

At the coroner's investigation he was upon the stand for three hours, but he baffled all the ingenuity of the attorneys and could not be trapped. His story was to the effect that tramps had broken into the house and killed his mother. The boy was finally locked up. He was visited by clergymen, and finally confessed to having first shot his mother and afterwards horribly mangled her with an ax. The only cause for the act was the refusal of his mother to allow him to put a pillow upon the floor. The boy is bright and intelligent in appearance.

SIXTY DROWNED

By the Foundering of a Vessel Off the the Island of Cayenne—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, March 2.—The French schooner Fleur de la Mar has foundered off the island of Cayenne. Sixty passengers were drowned,

VIENNA, March 2.—It is expected that an extra war grant will be demanded by the government, which will exceed 100,000 florins.

ROME, March 2.—Advices from Masso-wah say Chief Debeb and his followers, powerful allies of the Italian forces, have deserted to the enemy, taking with them the arms and equipments furnished by the Italians.

Moscow, March 2.—The Gazette (a government organ) says: "Turkey will declare Prince Ferdinand a usurper in Bulgaria, and will interfere with the military force to establish a status there in accordance with the Berlin treaty, either on receiving a mandate from all the powers or carte blanche from Russia.

SHOT HIM DOWN.

A Guard Shoots a Colored Prisoner Down Who Attacks Him.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 2—Albert West, a colored prisoner in the work house, this morning attacked Ananias Stewart, a guard, crushing his skull with a stone. Stewart fired on the prisoner, killing him instantly. Stewart is severely injured.

Running Too Fast.

TERRE HAUTE, March 2.—Coroner Haworth, in his verdict on the killing of Mrs. Nora Surns by a Vandalia train, at the Thirteenth street crossing, finds that the train was running faster than allowed by law. A damage suit is talked of.

A Clever Old Daytonian.

DAYTON, Ohio, March 2.—the venerable banker, Valentine Winters, at a family dinner yesterday, distributed $500,000 of his estate among six children and the heirs of two others. In the year 1882 he gave them $400,000.

Injunction Granted.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Judge Patterson to-day granted Rev. Dr. McGlynn a permanent injunction, restraining Henry George and his followers from incorporating an anti-poverty society.

The Bluffton council has passed the natural gas ordinance presented by the R. C. Bell syndicate. The town will be supplied this coming summer from Montpelier.

Eliza J. Chamberlain sues Richard C. Chamberlain to recover a mortgage bond issued by the Pittsburg railroad company and $100 damages. R. S. Robertson is attorney for the plaintiff.

An item yesterday stated that the young woman who let herself out of a second story window in the Ewing hall was Miss Ollie Oryler. The police assure us the courageous girl was Kittie Johnson, a wayward lass about town. This is the name inscribed on the police records and is possibly correct as it is sworn to.

MITCHELL ARRESTED

The Pugilist Arrested on the Charge of Arranging a Prize Fight With Slugger Sullivan.

LONDON, March 2.—Mitchell, the pugilist, was summoned before a local magistrate at Chertsy to-day to answer to the charge of arranging for a prize fight with Sullivan. Mitchell disavowed any intention to break the peace in England. He was bound over in the sum of £200.

A BIG WRECK.

A Local Freight Train on the Grand Rapids Road Comes to Grief.

Just before noon to-day, while the local freight was coming into the city from the north, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, it met with disaster, a mile or a mile and a half north of Fort Wayne.

As the train approached an over-head bridge near the city, the rear trucks of the fourth car from the locomotive broke from their fastenings and, like a flash, nine cars were piled in a mountain-like heap.

Billy Van Gorder, a brakeman, was caught in the broken cars and miraculously escaped being crushed to death. As it was his legs were pinched and an ankle is out of place. He is at his home on Chicago street, under the care of Dr. Meyers.

The train carries passengers and in the caboose were ten or twelve travelers, mostly from Huntertown and Wallen.

Mr. W. W. Shoaff, of Huntertown, was thrown violently against the car stove and the bones of his nose were broken. His face was cut. The other passengers were spilled about, but escaped harm.

The loss is severe and causes a blockade.

The engine and broken car ran over the road bridge safely. Had the break occurred on the bridge, an awful accident could not have been averted.

THE "JOURNAL."

Dr. L. S. Null Empowered to Sell the Paper.

This morning Dr. L. S. Null was appointed administrator of the estate of the late Sam Miller and filed his bond and qualified as such. He has been acting as special administrator.

According to application Judge O'Rourke empowered Dr. Null to offer for sale the 144 shares of the Journal stock owned by Mr. Miller. No date for the sale is fixed.

The paper is negotiating for a lease of the Napp building, at the corner of East Berry and Clinton street.

HOUSE BREAKING.

Supt. C. D. Law's Residence Broken Into.

Early this morning burglars entered the East Berry street residence of Supt. C. D. Law, of the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road, through a window and contented themselves by stealing a purse containing $4 from a table. Nothing else was missed.

Chief Diehl and Officer Lapp are on the trail of the thieving party.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Bids were opened at the navy department yesterday for furnishing sixteen inch gun lathes for the Washington navy yard. The following are the lowest bids: For six lathes, the Niles tool works, Hamilton, Ohio, $100,800; for three lathes, Bement mills, Philadelphia, $117,500; for seven lathes, Binsse & Hanachild, Harrison, N. Y., $100,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, secured the unanimous consent to have printed in record a memorial signed by the glass blowers, protesting against the reduction of the duty upon imported window glass as proposed by the Mills tariff bill.

A Brakeman Hurt.

Charley Sherman McClure, a brakeman on the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road, was badly crushed between two cars while making a coupling at Van Wert, last night. His collar bone was broken and his internal injuries are severe.

He is now under Dr. C. B. Stemen's care at the St. Joe hospital.

Sim Coy, one of the Indianapolis tally sheet forgers, is seriously ill in the jail there, and cannot be taken to the penitentiary.

E. A. K. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1888.

COL. C. C. MATSON, Capt. William R. Myers, and Senator Alonzo Green Smith are the avowed democratic candidates for governor.

THE prohibitionists of Indiana will nominate their state ticket on the 15th of March. Rev. W. H Hickman is strongly talked of for governor.

THE Hendricks' club, of Indianapolis, and the Duckworth club, of Cincinnati, will attend the national democratic convention at St. Louis. They will participate in the nomination of the next president.

THE tariff bill reported by Chairman Mills to the ways and means committee reduces the revenue on tariff articles $55,000,000; on internal revenue, $25,000,000. In discussing it, no delegations, or others not members of the committee, will be heard. It will go to the house in three weeks, probably.

SENATOR TURPIE made his maiden speech in the United States senate the other day in favor of the dependent pension bill as advocated and endorsed by the G. A. R. national encampment. It was a magnificent, logical, honest appeal for the veterans of the civil war. Indiana made no mistake in sending Senator Turpie to the national legislature. The people have in him a great friend and champion.

THE democratic central committee of Wells county convened at Bluffton Saturday, with a large attendance of enthusiastic democrats. The committee fixed Saturday, March 24th, as the time for holding a primary election to select candidates for representative, treasurer, sheriff, surveyor, commissioner and coroner. It also appointed delegates to the coming state, congressional and judicial conventions. The delegates were instructed to cast their respective votes for Captain Wm. R. Myers for governor and Hon. J. S. Daily for judge.

WE commend the resolutions of the Business Men's exchange to the thoughtful consideration of the members of the city council. They court good feeling, express a just preference for the Jenney tower lighting system and show that the council can adopt it without inviting cheap competition, because there is nothing that approaches its perfection in the world. THE SENTINEL feels that every councilman has the very best interests of the city at heart and will vote to retain in this city a manufacturing institution that contributes so largely to the progress of Fort Wayne, the prosperity of its people and an industry that will more than make up on the tax duplicate for any advantage or saving that could be accomplished by adopting a cheap, inferior light. This matter is now down to a business principle that we have at home a light, matchless in brilliancy, matchless in its tower system of lighting, matchless from an economical standpoint, because there is not a company on the face of the earth that has the tower appliances to light the city of Fort Wayne with less than five times the number of lamps the Jenney company employs. The council is given every credit for its precaution in letting contracts and can now justify itself in the light of day and in a manner that will exalt the municipal body in the estimation of all the people.

An Outside Opinion.

The Toledo Bee says: "The Fort Wayne council has declined to contract with the Jenney Electric company of that city for electric lighting, the Ball company, a foreign corporation, having underbid the home company about $500 on an aggregate of 128 lamps. It is claimed that this will result in the removal of the Jenney works from Fort Wayne, as the managers declare they could not expect to secure a contract for putting in an electric plant, where it is known that they do not light their own city. If this removal follows, the $500 saved by the city will be very expensive money, as the works employ several hundred hands and add much to the business of the city.

A Kendallville Enterprise.

The Kendallville Manufacturing company was incorporated yesterday at Indianapolis. Its capital stock is $150,000. The object of the company is to manufacture and sell sash, doors, blinds and all kinds of building material. The directors for the first year are John Mitchell, Henry Amman, Henry S. Kimmel, George W. Uhl and John Shifely.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Railroads and Shops of the City Touched Gently for Their Daily Budget of News.

Railroad travel was very light to-day.

The Wabash shops turned out a repaired locomotive yesterday.

Joseph Bennigan has taken a position in the Pittsburg machine shops.

E. L. McCamlay, a moulder in the Bass foundry, is on the sick list.

Harry Farmon, a machinist in the Pennington works, is on the sick list.

The Pennington pulley works have placed in position a new engine and boiler.

The Wabash shops have commenced running the new furnace in the blacksmith department.

W. J. Knight, who lectures at the Sion S. Bass post to-night, was formerly an engineer on the Pittsburg.

Carl Baumann, a machinist in the Pennington works, left for Cincinnati last night, where he has secured a position.

Augut Franke, the second engineer at the water works pumping house, is rejoicing over the arrival of a new boy at his home.

The men in the shops discuss the Burlington strike and the electric light question and take opposite sides on both subjects.

John Daley, the popular macninist in the Bass foundry, is on the sick list. "Jack," as he is familiarly called, is missed at the shop greatly.

Mr. Howard Northrop, northwestern agent for the American Transit company, is in the city, the guest of W. S. Morse, master mechanic for the Wabash.

Although manufacturing business active in the city, there is not a demand for laborers at present. This may come, however, as the season advances.

W. H. O'Beirne, superintendent of the Star Iron Tower company, left last night for New Orleans to superintend the construction of the system of tower lights to be established in that city by the Jenney company.

The contractors have signed the agreement submitted by the stone masons and brick layers, and the strike is at an end. By the new schedule masons get 38 cents per hour for a day of nine hours, within a radius of three miles from the court house.

The Bass foundry have placed in position a new time service board for the employes who work on the east side of Lafayette street, which includes the moulding rooms and the blacksmith shops. George Darker and Arthur Dougall will have charge of it.

This morning, when Ticket Agent Douglass and Baggage Master Brooks made their appearance at the Wabash depot, as is their custom every morning, for the 5 o'clock train, they found the passenger room filled with emigrants. They had alighted from a Pittsburg train and were on their way west and, Brooks says, they had enough baggage in the way of baskets, boxes, etc., to start a young hotel. They boarded the first Wabash train west and are now on their road to their future American homes some place in the great west.

An item appeared in this column Wednesday in reference to a box of carpenter tools, belonging to Michael Huntine, of the Wabash pumping service, having been stolen by some person from the depot at this place. The publication of the item led to the discovery of the box. This morning Foreman Mommer, of the Kerr Murray foundry, who had read the item in THE SENTINEL, returned the box of tools to Baggagemaster Brooks. He had found it in the yards of the foundry, where it had evidently been left by the rascals who had stolen it and found it too heavy to be carried further in their flight. They had broken the hinges and in this way had been able to be investigate the contents. The tools did not suit them, for none of them apper to be missing. Mr. Huntine has been notified of the recovery of his tools and will appear to claim them.

CAUGHT IN FORT WAYNE.

Important Arrest of the Photograph Swindler, E. S. Hall.

THE SENTINEL yesterday briefly referred to the arrest of a Cincinnati swindler by Officer Sheridan. The Enquirer has this account of his capers.

Detective Eddie Moses left yesterday morning for Fort Wayne, Ind., armed with a warrant for the arrest of E. S. Hall, a swindler who cut a wide swath while in this city, fleecing dozens of people. He was engaged as a canvasser of books and pictures, and as such managed to swindle both his employers and his customers. His last situation here was with R. S. Fulton, an artist, in business at 193 Elm street, where he copies and enlarges photographs. Hall acted as his agent and secured a great many bogus orders on which he received a good commission.

Bogus names and addresses were given, and as it was subsequently developed the photographs submitted were bought at a gallery.

A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he got wind of the fact and left town. A few days ago, Superintendent Deitsch learned that he was in Fort Wayne, and located him by telegraph. Yesterday his arrest was ordered, and the detectives started on the first train for that point to bring him back. He will be charged with embezzlement.

That Tired Feeling

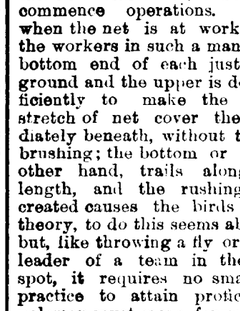

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. ry it this season.

English Method of Netting Birds.

Larks as a rule have a habit of roosting on stubble fields, when such are available, and later on repair for the most part to fallow lands, or occasionally open heaths and moors, preference being generally given to fallow, and it is here that "trammeling" is most generally carried on. The dimensions of the nets vary; but the average is: Length, thirty-six yards; breadth, five or six feet; and mesh, either an inch or three-quarters; two light poles some six or seven feet long (bamboo for choice, and fitted together like the joints of a fishing rod) complete the arrangements. The plan of procedure is simple in the extreme; to work the trammel the services of two men are required, one at each end, and a third usually accompanies the others, carrying a sack to hold the birds. The ground to be operated upon is decided on beforehand, also the direction in which each field shall be worked, this, of course, depending in a great measure on the conformation of the surface, and more still on the direction of the wind. Having arrived at the spot where it is proposed to make a start, the net is extended to its full lenght flat on the ground, the poles being attached to either end, and all is ready to commence operations. The poles, when the net is at work, are held by the workers in such a manner that the bottom end of each just touches the ground and the upper is depressed sufficiently to make the intervening stretch of net cover the area immediately beneath, without the top edge brushing; the bottom or tail, on the other hand, trails along its entire length, and the rushing noise thus created causes the birds to rise. In theory, to do this seems absurdly easy; but, like throwing a fly or hitting the leader of a team in the exact right spot, it requires no small amount of practice to attain proficiency. The poleman must move forward in perfect time and step, otherwise the net will "bag" and become altogether unmanageable; in the same way it must be dropped smartly and simultaneously at both ends when a bird or birds "strike;" above all, the exact extent of the field being worked must be known to a nicety, so as to allow the pivot man time to make the wheel when the end is reached without getting "tangled up." A couple of adepts will frequently secure fifteen or twenty dozen birds in a night, by no means unremunerative business, whereas two novices would probably not capture a dozen all told. According to Dr. Lister, who occupied the position of physician-in-chief to Queen Anne, the lark, when eaten either boiled or roasted, "helps the colic." How far the theory may be correct we are unable to say, but no one who has tasted the dainty will, we fancy, be inclined to deny that, either in aspic or roast, a dish of larks is fit to set before a king.—Pall Mall Gazette.

SKATING is of great antiquity. It is first mentioned in a work entitled the "Edda," written 800 years ago.

WHERE THE MUSTACHE GROWS.

Against adversity it is advised "to keep a stiff upper lip," and as that is where the mustache grows, such advice strictly followed would lead to a display of bristles. It is much more important to keep a stout spinal column, for there the burdens fall on the physical man. Nature is never at fault, and where such stress comes she provides supports. It is the fault of the individual who, through negligence, exposure or imprudence, brings on a collapse of these supports. Everyone knows how the stitch in the back comes, but everyone doesn't know the promptest and surest way to catch it up and cure it permanently. The experiments of those who know the secret are worth recording. Mr. Frank Monroe, Francisville, Ill., January 30, 1887, says: "Three years ago had rheumatism in the back (lumbago) so bad I could not dress myself. One bottle of St. Jacobs Oil cured me, and I have not felt it since." Mr. J. W. Meirs, 28 Rock street, Lowell, Mass., February, 1887, writes: "Three years ago was taken with pains in back, hips and legs; could not turn in bed except by help of headboard; applied St. Jacobs Oil several times to my back. In three days I was sound and limber. Have not had return since, though I had been subject to spells for many years." Mr. Jacob Mueller, Maysville, Wis., February, 1887, writes: "In '84 was troubled with an awful backache, and suffered some time. St. Jacobs Oil cured me permanently; no return." Mr. E. W. Elliott, Ludington, Mich., February 3. 1887, states: "My wife had not stooped in ten years to button her shoe; she suffered intensely with lame back. She tried St. Jacobs Oil; four bottles cured her, and she has had no trouble in six or seven years." Mr. Horace E. Hopkis, New Albany, Indiana, writes, June 10, 1887: "Suffered two years argo with acute pains in the back, also a slight touch of pleurisy. In one hour obtained great relief from St. Jacobs Oil; three applications cured me. In the morning pains were gone and have had no recurrence of it since," May 17, 1887, Mr. A. A. Cunningham, Perryopolis, Pa., writes; "My wife was sorely afflicted with lame back; suffered several years. She used innumerable liniments and plasters without relief; used St. Jacobs Oil, and she was cured by it." The maxim ought to be, keep a straight, strong back, and the rest of the anatomy will be strong also.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Tortured by Fashion.

"A few days after my arrival at school," Mrs. Summerfield tells us in her memoirs, "although perfectly straight and well made, I was inclosed in stiff stays, with a steel busk in front, while above my frock bands drew my shoulders back till the shoulder-blades met. Then a steel rod with a semicircle, which went under my chin, was clasped to the steel busk in my stays. In this constrained state I and most of the younger girls had to prepare our lessons;" and in the life of Miss Edgeworth we red that, being sent to a certain establishment, "she underwent all the usual tortures of back-boards, iron collars, and dumbs, and also (because she was a very tiny person) the usual one of being hanged up by the neck to draw out the muscles and increase the growth," a signal failure in her case. Indeed, instances of absolute mutilation and misery are so common in the past that it is unnecessary to multiply them, but it is really sad to think that in our own day a civilized woman can hang onto a cross-bar while her maid laces her waist into a fifteen-inch circle.—Woman's World.

SKIN SO ALP BLOOD.

Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. Finlay, (to whom I shall ever feel grateful), spoke to me about Cuticura, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the State. The Cuticura Remedies are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggist John P. Finlay and Dr. D. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake Lee, Miss.
ALEXANDER BEACH, Greenville, Miss.

Mr. Beach used the Cuticura Remedies, at our request, with results as above stated.

SAVED MY MOTHER'S LIFE.

Ever since I can remember, my mother has suffered from a milk leg. Nothing would do her any good. She had the best medical talent, but they all did her no good. She suffered with her leg for thirty years and never knew a well day. She would have to sit up half the night, holding up her leg and moaning. She had no peace. She used all the best know remedies in the country without effect. I asked her to try your Cuticura Remedies. Got her a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles and now she is a well woman today. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot help stating to you about your wonderful Cuticura Remedies. You have saved my mother's life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude. I have advertised your Cuticura Remedies far and near.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh, yes but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing ecebted, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for as such combination exists in the Pharmacopeia as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HINTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. "FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

A CLEVER ADVENTURER.

How George Arnold Found Diamonds in Arizona—A Million Dollars Won by Cunning and Fraud.

Among the countless schemes to which the great banker Ralston, who loved to be called the "Financial King of the Pacific Coast," devoted no small share of the California bank, of which he was president, was the exploiting of mines in the pyramid range of mountains close to the border line which divides Arizona from New Mexico. This was in the early seventies, when speculation was rife and the discovery of bonanzas an every-day event.

Among the employes of Ralston in the Pyramid mines was one George Arnold, a man of meager education, but bright and ambitious. In his shanty on the wild mountain side and over his bacon and beans he was ever dreaming of some plan that would bring Dame Fortune at his waiting feet and shower upon him her princely favors. He saw men making fortunes by a single cast of the die and losing them by a single throw. While yet dreaming his dream of wealth there came to him the bright-colored story of the great diamond discoveries of Cape Colony. His teeming brain at once devised a scheme which, in his way, equaled Law's South Sea bubble. He had grown unscrupulous in his desire, and had come to believe that with him, at least, the end justified the means.

The soil around the Pyramid district was rich in color, and had character enough to inaugurate any mining scheme, however wild and impracticable. So, with a comrade, Jim Haggerty, with whom he had long associated, Arnold made long tours over the surrounding country. After a few weeks of this kind of work, he resigned his place in the mines with the given intention of seeking the fairer fields of Mexico.

He then turned up in San Francisco in the fall of 1871. He immediately found Ralston, and astonished even that bold operator by revealing that he had discovered in Arizona rich diamond fields quite as extensive as those of Cape Colony. From the gripsack he had brought with him he poured forth a wondrous display of rough diamonds which had been washed from the yielding soil of the new field. They were many and apparently of value.

Ralston, ever ready for a venture, especially one which promised such dazzling results, entered at once into a proposed exploration of the new diamond-fields. He introduced Arnold to several leading capitalists who at once became enthusiastic over the new Golconda. With the rapid action peculiar to Californians, the clique who had been led into the secret immediately determined to visit the mines, and if found to be all right to purchase Arnold's claims and titles for the modest but snug sum of $1,000,000. Arnold reluctantly accepted the offer.

In due course of time the party of capitalists interested left San Francisco for the promised land. At Camp Ralston, the headquarters of the Pyramid mining speculation, the eager capitalists were met by Arnold and Haggerty, the latter being introduced as a sort of side partner, like the silent mariner of the admiral of H. M. S. Pinafore. The two worthies were to conduct Ralston and his associates to the diamond-fields.

The party was led by a route as zigzag as a snake fence and as rough as a corduroy road. Part of the way was along the Gila River to where the Rio Prieto empties into it. At this point the eyes of the jaded capitalistic visitors were carefully blindfolded and their animals were led by the guides for some distance further. When they were permitted to see daylight again they were in the midst of a clump of trees which stood on the river's bank. They were given shovels and picks and told to dig anywhere about the clump of trees. Each of the visitors did so, and each in turn brought out one or more of the precious stones they sought for. They were everywhere, and the millionaire miners wiped the clinging soil from off their hands softly, as though it was a sacred deposit.

On their return to San Francisco the capitalists wished to form a company. In ten days it was accomplished. Arnold was paid his $1,000,000 and made superintendent of the new mines. He at once made known the location of the diamond-fields, and they were visited by several stockholders in the company. Diamonds were found by each and all of them, and all went merry as a marriage bell until Arnold skipped for the East.

It was then thought best to call an expert, and Prof. King, the well-known geologist, was selected. He first discovered that the ground around the clump of trees had been cleverly "salted" with refuse diamonds, such as may be cheaply bought in the marts at Amsterdam. It was also found that the diamonds found by the capitalists had been "tried" at Amsterdam, and, as Prof. King said: "While diamonds may exist in Arizona, it is hardly to be expected that nature will produce them partly cut or polished."

The members of the new diamond company were both thunderstruck and indignant, and steps were quickly taken to bring Arnold to justice. He was at his home in his native Kentucky, and the machinery of the law was brought to bear upon him there. He was arrested, but was never taken out of the Blue-Grass country for punishment. In some manner he secured his release, and entered upon a life of wild enjoyment. His excesses were of short duration, and after five years of feasting and rioting with ill-gotten wealth, his life went out.

The popular blood purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla, is having a tremendous sale this season. Nearly everybody takes it. Try it yourself.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's own true laxative. This pleasant California liquid fruit remedy may be had of Theime and Gross, druggists, large bottles at fifty cents or one dollar. It is the most pleasant, prompt, and effective remedy known to cleanse the system; to act on the Liver, Kidneys, and bowels gently yet thoroughly; to dispel Headaches, Colds and Fevers; to cure Constipation, Indigestion, and kindred ills.

The Man Did All He Could.

Just this side of Bloomington a baby in the rear of the car began to cry. He was a lusty-lunged little fellow, and made more noise than half a dozen babies ought to have. The passengers turned—a good many of them with no pleasant expression on their faces—to investigate. They found a man holding the little one, and doing his best to quiet him. There was no woman in sight. That was what the sufferer wanted—a woman—his mother—to drive away all his little troubles and soothe him into quiet slumber. The man did all he could. He was a large, benevolent-looking man, with a sad, melancholy expression and a world of tenderness in his eyes as he looked down at the little bundle of humanity and rocked it to and fro. But the baby refused to be comforted and screamed the louder. So it went for a dozen miles. The other passengers were growing impatient, and two or three of them got up and went forward. There was a touch of sympathy in some faces, but more bore a scowl. Neither seemed to make any difference with the baby—he screamed louder, if anything, as the train sped on. The man who had held him was weary, but still he bent over his little charge and sought in low words—clumsy baby talk—to hush his weeping. There was a man in the next seat in front—a cold, hard-featured man—who had been disturbed in reading a book. Half a dozen times he turned and looked at the man working with the baby. Each time he glanced with a deeper scowl. Still the other strove to soothe the little one. "There, there, don't oo cry so! Maybe oor mamma——" He stopped.

"If you can't keep that howling brat of yours still," said the hard-featured man as he turned in his seat, "you'd better chuck it out the window!"

The man with the baby glanced up surprised, pained. For the space of half a minute he looked the other full in the eye, and then he leaned forward and with a voice choking with emotion said:

"This young one isn't mine! A dodgasted woman gave it to me to hold while she made a fool trip forward to the baggage car to see if they'd got her trunk, and I guess she's never coming back! But I'll be dashed if you can run on me!" And he dumped the baby down in one end of the seat, and, with an altogether different look in his eye, jumped out in the isle and got the hard-featured man by the collar, and jammed him down on the floor between the seats, and got up on him with both feet, and took hold of the hat-rack with his hands, and raised himself up and dropped back on the hard-featured man till he had the features pretty well softened up. And it appeared quite as if he would have been going up and down like a pile-driver yet, if the woman who owned the baby hadn't flounced back into the car and rescued the infant and quieted him in about ten seconds, and told him in a loud, clear voice that she didn't know she'd left her little, darling, pwescious baby boy with a great, big, ugly prize-fighter. Then the benevolent man quit jumping and went and sat down in another seat with his face very red, while the hard-featured party crawled up looking as if he would have to carry his features in a sling for three weeks.—Fred H. Carruth.

William H. Seward in a Texas.

The term "texas," applied to the hurricane deck of a steamboat, had its origin on the Mississippi in 1845. When boats were first built the pilot house was placed on the hurricane deck. Finally, in the above-mentioned year, the pilot house was placed up higher, and underneath it was made a room or two, with about six or eight berths in it.

When a tough passenger came on board and had sufficient money to pay his cabin fare, the clerk, not wishing to put him among the cabin passengers, gave him a bunk in this little cabin, and sometimes it would be filled with some of the worst roughs in the country. Finally the officers of the boat, owing to the toughness of the room, christened it Texas, after the State of Texas, which at that time was noted for its wild cowboys, robbers, and the like. Boats of late years, and especially the large ones, are built with a full-length texas, which is occupied by the officers and crew.

A good story is told of a bluff old river captain and the great American statesman, the late William H. Seward. In the presidential campaign of 1860 Seward made a trip up the Mississippi as far as St. Paul, in the interest of Lincoln. He took passage for the northwest at Burlington on one of the finest sidewheelers of the day, and, at his own request, was given a berth the first night in the texas, which happened to be filled with revolvers. On the following morning, in the hearing of the Captain, he soundly berated the officers of the boat to a political friend, who accompanied him, for allowing a party of drunken men to infringe upon the rights and destroying the peace of the rest of the passengers.

The master of the boat, who did not know that the speaker was Seward, and would not have been at all mealy-mouthed if he had, turned upon him and bluntly told him that he was Captain of that boat, and that if he didn't like the way things were conducted on it he might go to h—ll. "Go to h—ll, sir," replied Seward, with great vehemence. "I have already been there, sir. I slept in the texas last night."

It is related that when the Captain found out who his passenger was, although a staunch Douglas man, he cleaned the texas of its noisy gang of occupants and gave it to Seward the remainder of the trip, and that the two "made it up" between them over a bottle of Kentucky whisky and some rare Havanas.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A purgative medicine should possess tonic and curative, as well as cathartic properties. This combination of ingredients may be found in Ayer's Pills. They strengthen and stimulate the bowels, causing natural action.

The American Waiter.

The American waiter is a source of constant study to me whenever I am on my travels, and at no other time is he so interesting to me as when he has to deal with the lone woman at the hotel. I have been watching him, and I have seen the lone woman come into the dining-room, sit down at the table and starve to death, while everybody else—that is, every man body—who came in after her got their orders promptly served. The lone woman—or any woman, in fact—does most mortally hate to "tip" a waiter or a porter when she is paying full rates anyhow. She won't do it if she can possibly exist without it, and when she does give a fee, it is usually five cents, and ten cents she considers an enormous and princely gratuity. The waiter and the hall-boy and the porter all know this, and consequently the lone woman, while she is never insulted, and is treated with the utmost show of politeness and with genuine courtesy at the desk, is quietly ignored by the servants, and her hotel and railway lines have fallen in stony places. This "tipping" business has grown to be an outrageous nuisance even in these United States. Our citizens who travel abroad bring home the evil habit, commercial travelers and people in all lines of the dramatic professions are much given to it, and it is beginning to be so that you are rather neglected without it. Frequently in good hotels where all the help is well paid the servant will remind you that he expects to be "remembered." A few weeks ago I ran into Harrisburg, left my family at a hotel, arranging for them to meet me at another point in two days, as the intervening runs were too hard for the Prince. I got up at 2 a. m., carried my valise down stairs, never saw hide nor wool of a porter, and went my ways. Two days later, when the family came away, a freedman, whose shackles had been removed by mistake, lurking about to carry what few articles the guest could not take, told my sister that he had waited on me constantly, and that I said I would give him half a dollar when I came back. She gave the bragand fifty cents. I haven't been back there yet, but I am going. My work has been quite exhausting this season, and I need recreation; so I have promised myself the pleasure of attending a colored funeral.—Bob Burdette.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVean, 262 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Belanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. Martyrs to headache should try

LOCAL NEWS.

Laugh with "Karl."

Twenty-eight more days of Lent.

The clever German comedian, Mr. Chas. A. Gardner, presents "Karl" at the Temple to-night.

Kyle Gaskill has traded his farm at Roanoke to Mr. Chase, of Fort Wayne, for property in this city. A son of the latter will move on the farm in a week or two.

Master Mechanic Morris, of this city, was in Andrews this week, in consultation with the firemen in regard to important changes that will take place in the near future.

Miss Georgie Boyd and Miss Eva Lauferty, of this city, attended a very brilliant reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Funk, at Warsaw, Wednesday evening last.

The Northeastern Indiana Baptist association will hold its third quarterly session, in the church, at Kendallville, commencing this evening, March 2, and continuing over Sunday.

Dr. White Cloud will give an entertainment, consisting of his grand Indian exhibition, at Curry's hall, Bluffton, next Monday evening for the benefit of Lew Dailey post, No. 33, G. A. R.

Rev. T. J. Bacher and wife, Mrs. Paulus and Mrs. McCulloch and Miss Kittie Ross have gone to Nottawa, Mich., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Schermerhom, formerly of this city.

"Karl" will be presented by the popular dialect comedian, Chas. A. Gardner, who is a most felicitous actor, a clever dialectician and a good singer. His songs are a very agreeable feature of the performance.

The Huntington Democrat says: "Judgment for the defendants was given in the case of Edward Ely, commissioner of drainage, vs. Margaret S. Smith et al. An appeal to the supreme court was taken."

R. R. Y. M. C. A. cottage meeting in Bloomingdale this evening at the home of Mr. Bert Allen, corner of St. Mary avenue and Hoffman street, at 7:30, standard time. A cordial invitation extended to all.

The Morse house at Angola burned yesterday morning. Loss, $6,000; insurance, in the Phœnix, of Brooklyn, $1,500; in the Indiana, of Indianapolis, $1,000. Mr. Morse, the owner of the hotel, is the father of Mrs. R. T. McDonald, of this city.

The Warsaw district conference of the M. E. church, at Roann, Wabash county, closed last Wednesday. The attendance was quite large. This was the last meeting of the district conference, the last annual conference having legislated it out of existence. Arrangements were made for holding a National association meeting, at Columbia City, in October.

The residents of Jackson street were somewhat surprised last evening to see Lew Meisheimer on a bicycle. People in that vicinity will gradually become accustomed to the sight and shold not move away. The above is a pointer to the L. A. W. to get this disciple of Faust into the league, as printers who can buy bicycle are very scare in Hoosierdom.

Several years ago Charles Battelle and wife moved to Peru and the husband found employment running an engine on the Wabash railway. When the Wabash gave up the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago shops there and abandoned so many trains Batelle was thrown out of work, and had no steady job since. Wednesday he shot himself through the heart, in despair.

The Kendallville News says: "Mason Long, the reformed gambler of Fort Wayne, is a member of the Baptist church of that city, and is one of the most liberal financial supporters belonging to that body. If there is a hundred dollars to be raised for church purposes, Mr Long always gives $25, and at all church socials where ten cents is collected, he always puts $1 upon the plate and his wife does the same."

We will not be able to open our New Store before March 24th, so we will continue the great "One-Fourth Off" Cost Sale at our present quarters till March 22nd.

Mr. J. F. Wing, the architect, is at Richmond, to confer with the directors of the feeble minded institute in regard to the new building, to be erected in this city.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: "Mrs. I. D. G. Nelson, who has been an invalid for many months, will leave for St. Louis springs, Mich., in a day or so, in search of health."

W. H. O'Beirne, superintendent of the Star iron tower company, left last night for New Orleans to superintend the construction of the system of Jenney tower lights to be established in that city by the Fort Wayne company. Mrs. O'Beirne accompanied him, and both will be absent for at least one year.

The popular Turnverein met last night at Arion hall to hold its semi-annual election of officers. Following was the result: President, John Reuss; vice-president, Fred Koenig, sr.; secretary, Frank Zimmerman; treasurer, Peter Nussbaum; trustees, Chas. Thieme, G. Stauffer, C. Schaeler and F. Kratzsch.

The World Assurance company is doing a reckless insurance business in this city. It is said the concern is not legalized by the state authorities. If these charges are unfounded, Mr. Love, its manager, will have the benefit of an explanation. In the meantime THE SENTINEL warns the people to touch it lightly.

The Bluffton Bugle has this compliment for Dr. White Cloud: "Dr. White Cloud still continues to draw large and enthusiastic audiences to his big Indian and historical entertainments. This is the doctor's second week with us, and during his stay here he has sold upwards of 500 bottles of that wonderful Indian remedy Ka-ton-ka. It has done great good in this community, and has effected cures of long standing which the majority of people had given up as incurable. Dr. White Cloud goes to Fort Wayne from here, where he will probably remain for six weeks."

The Detroit News facetiously remarks that "the Michigan Central is about to provide its passenger engines with deep toned, sonorous whistles, like those used by steamboats, leaving the present shrill ones upon the freight locomotives. This is to tell a fellow, without looking up, whether his legs are being smashed by car loads of salt, hogs, lumber, groceries, junk, etc., or his limbs neatly severed by a string of drawing room cars. When a man is picked up by the nose of a cow-catcher and dropped into the next township it will be of interest to him to know by the boom or screech of the thing that hit him whether by getting off the track quickly and neatly he has saved the lives of a lot of fellow beings or only those of a few car loads of neat cattle."

SENSIBLE WORK.

Prominent Business Men Meet and Urge Their Wishes on the Council in a Manner That Will Do Good.

The rooms of the Business Men's exchange, on Clinton street, were filled to overflowing last night by the representative merchants, business men and citizens.

Mr. G. W. Seavy, the presiding officer, made a very fair explanation of the object of the meeting, saying it was called to counsel better judgment, not to censure anyone. He said the exchange aimed to build up, not to tear down. He was followed by Col. D. N. Foster, Mr. W. D. Page, Mr. A. S. Lauferty, Mr. E. T. Stringer, Mr. G. W. Wilson, Mr. S. M. Foster, Mr. Henry Colerick, Mr. M. V. B. Spencer and others in very temperate speeches. They all felt that when the citizens expressed a preference for the Jenney Star tower electric light system, that the council would gladly co-operate with them. Everyone seemed to feel that the services of aldermen were not appreciated, and that their action in this case was to place themselves beyond criticism and suspicion.

It was made clear that there is not a better light in the world than the Jenney spark. Their Star iron tower system has not a match in the field and never will have. It suits the people of Fort Wayne and as there is but one Star iron tower system in the world, it was clearly the duty of the council to adopt it, because all the advertising they could do or all the competition they could solicit would not bring another tower lighting system to Fort Wayne.

Thus ran the talk of the evening. It counseled, rather than commanded. It acknowledged the honest purpose of the council and made it creditable for them to undo their work and vote the sentiment of their constituents a thing THE SENTINEL believes everyone of them will do when they thoughtfully consider the following resolutions adopted by the exchange:

It is the opinion of the Business Men's exchange—organized solely with a view of aiding our city authorities and other citizens to accomplish such measures as are most certain to secure the rapid growth and prosperity of Fort Wayne—that the public interests almost invariably demand the letting of all public work by contract, after first advertising for bids, but

It is further our opinion: Occasionally there are circumstances so extraordinary that to carry out this rule would not only work a great hardship to our own people but would very materially damage the public interests which the members of the city council are most anxious to protect.

We believe the question of the electric lighting of our city by the Jenney company is one of those rare exceptions to the general rule we have stated. Organized as a home institution, entirely maintained by home capital, its immense and rapidly growing shops, employing hundreds of our skilled mechanics, bidding for its business from Maine to California, and compelling outside capital to pay an annual tribute of nearly half a million dollars to Fort Wayne thrift and enterprise, our city can well afford to deal with it justly and fairly.

We believe that investigation has shown that the proposed contract price of $135 per lamp, with the court house lights thrown in, is a very low, reasonable and equitable figure, and when it is also taken into consideration the fact that the local company alone controls the Star Iron Tower system, which we believe to be the cheapest, most economical and altogether the best system known for the lighting of cities and the only one that employes the lofty Star Iron Tower for the elevation of lights, we believe it not only right, but the duty of our council to give the contract to the Jenney company at the proposition offered, as also for the further reason that said company, in its proposed contract, agrees to furnish all such towers as the council may deem necessary without further cost to the city; therefore,

Under these circumstances this exchange regrets the action of a majority of our city councilmen, at its last regular meeting, taken, as we believe, under a misapprehension of the law, in practically rejecting a contract, prepared by direction of that body at its previous meeting, with the Jenney Electric Light company, which provided for the extension, for three years, of the contract under which our city is now lighted; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appoited from the members of this exchange, whose duty it shall be to wait upon the individual members of the council, and present the views of this body and seek to induce a reconsideration of the action of the last council meeting, with a view to the acceptance of the contract with the Jenney company, as heretofore reported to the council.

This address was prepared by Messrs. W. D. Page, D. N. Foster and Henry Colerick.

The exchange also appointed Mr. W. D. Page, Mr. Fred Eckert, Mr. A. S. Lauferty, Mr. Fred Beach and Mr. S. M. Foster a committee to present the views and solicitations of the citizens to the members of the council.

THE METHODISTS.

Some Points Concerning Their Coming Conference—The Ministers Who Will be Returned to This City.

The annual session of the Northern Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at Wabash on the 28th of this month and continue in session for one week. It is an event of importance to the Methodists of this district, and for this reason our religious reporter mingled among some of the people of that denomination last evening for the purpose of collecting some information in regard to it.

The conference will be presided over by Bishop S. M. Merrill, of Chicago, and will be composed of 128 ministers. It has many church matters to attend to, prominent among which is the assignment of ministers to charges. It is one of the peculiarities of the Methodist churches that all the assignments of ministers to charges are made by the annual conferences and this is done every year, so that a Methodist minister is liable to change his location every year. He is, however, almost always returned to his congregation for the second, and frequently for the third year. This is the limit of his stay, however, with any congregation and every third year the Methodist divine is compelled to go to a new home.

This will be the case this year with Rev. C. W. Lynch, the presiding elder of the Fort Wayne district, and Rev. F. G. Browne, the pastor of the Wayne street church. The former has for three years made his home in this city, but his term as presiding elder will expire with the meeting of the coming conference and he will be assigned a congregation at some place in the district. Rev. Browne will leave his prosperous congregation with many regrets on their part. For three years he has stood in the pulpit of the Wayne street church and preached the gospel to his people and but few ministers in the city can equal him in the power of his pulpit oratory or the influence he has exerted among them for good, but the law of the church is paramount to the wishes of a congregation and he will labor in other parts of the Lords vineyard after the closing of the present conference year.

Rev. C. W. Wilkinson, of the Simpson church, Rev. L. H. Murlin, of the Trinity church, and Rev. M. C. Cooper, of the St. Paul church, will be returned because they are just closing their first year. This will be a welcome return to the congregations of their respective churches. Rev. Wilkinson is popular with his people and his impressive pulpit oratory and stirring revivals have made him a great favorite with the congregation that worships at his church. Rev. Murlin and Rev. Cooper are young in the ministry, but they have endeared themselves to their congregations, who will welcome their return to the city for another year.

Rev. D. C. Woolpert, of the Berry street church, closes his second year with his congregation and will in all probability be returned. He has been very successful in his ministerial work in this city and his powerful sermons upon some of the popular evils of the day have deservedly earned him the reputation of being one of the best pulpit orators in the city. It is safe to say that the conference will return Rev. Woolpert for his third and last year to the congregation among whom he is so beloved and for whom he has worked so successfully in the Master's cause.

One of the duties of the Wabash conference will be to select four ministerial and two lay delegates to the general conference of the church, which meets in New York on the first of May in this year. Another question that may also come before them will be the increasing of the limit for which ministers may be returned to the same charge from three to four years. The conference will also decide upon the place of holding its next annual session. The contest will be between LaGrange and Richmond, with the probabilities in favor of the former place, as LaGrange will send a petition to the meeting signed by all the churches of that city, irrespective of denomination.

The churches of Fort Wayne will present a good report to the conference. Methodism, under the leadership of its present pastors, has had a prosperous year in this city. With its membership of over 1,000, the city will stand at the head of the list and to none will more honor be due than to those bold and fearless champions of right who have stood in their pulpits and battled sin at every point.

A GAMBLER'S WINNING.

John Condon Compelled to Pay Back to Rhoda E. Reed, of Logansport, $1,900.

Mr. John Condon, a former Fort Wayne boy, is one of the few fellows who have prospered at the gaming table. His rooms at Logansport and Chicago are familiar to the fraternity, so that this clipping from the Logansport Pharos will interest:

"In 1885 Rhoda E. Reed commenced suit in the Cass circuit court to recover $1,900 from John Condon, claiming that her husband, Noble K. Reed, had lost that amount while wrestling with the tiger at Condon's gambling rooms in this city. Mrs. Reed set forth in her complaint that the money belonged to her and that the partner of her joys and sorrows had no right to squander it in that manner. The case was warmly contested on both sides and attracted considerable attention both at home and abroad. When the time finally arrived for the jury to return a verdict, they decided in favor of Mrs. Reed, and recommended that she recover the full amount of her claim. Condon appealed the case to the supreme court and has again been defeated, that tribunal having sustained the verdict of the lower court. The high authorities declare that in case any person who, by betting on a game shall lose to any one any money or valuables, may recover the same with costs of suit within six months after the date of such loss. It is also provided that should the losing party fail to bring suit within the time prescribed it shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to conduct the suit and recover the money for the benefit of the wife or minor children, and in case there are none for the benefit of the common schools.

Condon is evidently tried of Logansport, for he is disposing of his fine stock farm there to shake Hoosier dust off his shoes.

NO PEACE YET!

The Strike on the Burlington road Still Continues—The Brotherhood Working Desperately.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Information obtained from persons whose connection with the strike gives the weight of authority to their words has it that the strike will either be declared off, or both sides will settle down to a long and bitter contest of their respective strengths. Through the efforts of George E Dewiler, the editor of the Knights of Labor; President Perkins, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and Chiefs Arthur and Sargent were brought together in President Perkin's room at the Grand Pacific, and a conference of several hours in length held, during which all the different phases of the strike and the existing differences between the company and the brotherhoods were gone over and carefully discussed. While no definite conclusions were reached, yet a number of the cobwebs that had blinded the eyes of both sides were swept away and a clear and unobstructed view of the situation obtained.

Master Workman Cahill, of the district assembly to which belong the Reading and Philadelphia striking engineers, was here making terms between the Knights and the Brotherhood. As a result, Mr. Arthur then sent the following:

Edward Kent, New York, Chairman of the Executive Board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers:

"Go to Philadelphia at once and use your influence to get all Brotherhood engineers who took the places of the Reading strikers to leave the service of the company, furnishing them with the financial support of the Brotherhood. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy are using the strikers to beat us in conflict and we must checkmate them.

(Signed), P. M. ARTHUR.

Another telegram was sent by Mr. F. P. Sargeant, saying: "I will pay them until they can find employment elsewhere, and allow the men now out to return to work. By doing this the bad feeling now existing will be obliterated, and will assist us to win our struggle with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy."

THE STRIKE ON THE A. & P. ROAD.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 2.—The strike of conductors and brakemen on the Atlantic and Pacific road is complete throughout the entire line and business on the road is virtually suspended. The west bound passengers coming into Albuquerque are sent to California, via. the Southern Pacific. The strikers are perfectly quiet and orderly. The strike effects about seven hundred men, the majority of whom are married.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 2.—Thirty engineers, formerly on the Reading system, passed through here this morning enroute to Chicago.

THE BROTHERHOOD'S RESOURCES.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 2.—B. W. Vedder, chairman of the general grievance committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on the Gould system, said: "We have $125,000 in the treasury, and when this sum is exhausted a $5 assessment can be levied every fifteen days on the working members of the Brotherhood. We have 26,000 members and we are determined to win this strike. Other roads may be involved if the strike is prolonged, but no trouble is anticipated on the Missouri Pacific. There are 842 engineers on the Gould roads, and 812 are Brotherhood engineers."

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Mr. Arthur and the officials of the Burlington road both report no important development in the strike situation. Mr. Morton, general passenger agent, said to-day that their passenger service was practically where it was before the strike and that they were moving freight on every division line to-day. He says that not one of the Reading men, whom they engaged to take the strikers' places, has yet deserted.

At the brotherhood headquarters it was learned that men had been sent to the Pennsylvania region to-day to persuade the brotherhood men on the Reading road to carry out their part of the bargain made between Chief Arthur and the Knights of Labor. It was also learned that unless the Northwestern, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Chicago and Alton and the Chicago and Illinois roads cease aiding the Burlington in their passenger business, a strike would be ordered on all these lines to-morrow afternoon.

The Worst Snow Storm of the Season Prevails Throughout Michigan —Railroads Blockaded.

MARQUETTE, Mich., March 2.—All the upper peninsular railroads are blocked by one of the severest gales and snow storms ever known here. It has snowed continuously for nearly twenty-four hours and a heavy wind has drifted it badly. The storm is still raging and reaches the entire length of Lake Superior and extends well down in the southern peninsular, where eighteen inches has fallen.

MANCHILONA, Mich., March 2.—About eighteen inches of snow fell yesterday, the greatest amount that has fallen here in one day for years. The snow has drifted six or seven feet deep. It is still blowing and snowing hard.

MACKINAW CITY, March 2.—The worst snow storm of the season prevailed here yesterday. Eighteen inches of snow fell and drifted all along the railroads and trains are being delayed.

WANTS A PENSION.

Mrs. Hooker's Reasons for Asking that She be Granted a Pension.

ELKHART, March 2.—Mrs. Hooker, a well known woman who has made Elkhart her home for a number of years, has appeared before the pension board here, and applied for a pension on the ground that she was a regularly-enlisted soldier of the late war, served three years, and was twice wounded while in service. She had been married but a short time when the war broke out, and was determined to accompany her husband, who was a first lieutenant. To facilitate the matter, she induced a young man who resembles her in general appearance (she is a decidedly masculine-looking woman) to undergo the examination and, when the opportunity offered, reported for duty in his place. Her enlistment took place in Ohio, and her assumed name was Brown. Mrs. Hooker is familiarly known here as "Colonel," and her application excites much interest. She talks of preparing a book of war reminiscences.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain has left Washington for New York and London, by way of Philadelphia. Since he has been here he has been given numerous dinners by many prominent society ladies, and has received many social courtesies at their hands. As he could not reciprocate, there being no ladies in his party, he made several very handsome presents to the ladies who had entertained him. Toilet articles in silver and ivory and various other expensive knick-knacks accompanied his P. P. C. cards or were delivered by one of his secretaries. Mr. Chamberlain also had a photograph taken of himself and his two secretaries and scattered them around quite lavishly among his friends before leaving.

ABERDEEN, Miss., March 2.—A terrible battle occurred between the citizens of the Fifth district of Monroe county, fifteen miles north of Aberdeen, Monday afternoon. It was brought on by the expulsion from the public school at Rome of one or two pupils.

The friends of both sides met at the school house Monday afternoon. In the melee that followed James Bailey, jr., fired six charges from his pistol, instantly killing R. A. Rutledge, and wounded his son Edward so seriously that he died the following day. He also inflicted a severe flesh wound upon Benjamin English and unintentionally shot his younger brother through the finger. Bailey received a glancing bullet against a rib and a slight cut in his back from a knife.

A LIFE CONVICT AT THIRTEEN.

Johnnie Beal Begins His Term for Brutally Murdering His Mother.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 2.—John A. Beal, a boy aged only thirteen years, has been received at the penitentiary, his sentence being for life. About eight months ago the boy's mother, who lived in Preble county, was found murdered, and her body frightfully mangled. The boy was suspected, but his coolness allayed suspicion.

At the coroner's investigation he was upon the stand for three hours, but he baffled all the ingenuity of the attorneys and could not be trapped. His story was to the effect that tramps had broken into the house and killed his mother. The boy was finally locked up. He was visited by clergymen, and finally confessed to having first shot his mother and afterwards horribly mangled her with an ax. The only cause for the act was the refusal of his mother to allow him to put a pillow upon the floor. The boy is bright and intelligent in appearance.

SHOT HIM DOWN.

A Guard Shoots a Colored Prisoner Down Who Attacks Him.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 2—Albert West, a colored prisoner in the work house, this morning attacked Ananias Stewart, a guard, crushing his skull with a stone. Stewart fired on the prisoner, killing him instantly. Stewart is severely injured.

Running Too Fast.

TERRE HAUTE, March 2.—Coroner Haworth, in his verdict on the killing of Mrs. Nora Burns by a Vandalia train, at the Thirteenth street crossing, finds that the train was running faster than allowed by law. A damage suit is talked of.

A Clever Old Daytonian.

DAYTON, Ohio, March 2.—The venerable banker, Valentine Winters, at a family dinner yesterday, distributed $500,000 of his estate among six children and the heirs of two others. In the year 1882 he gave them $400,000.

Injunction Granted.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Judge Patterson to-day granted Rev. Dr. McGlynn a permanent injunction, restraining Henry George and his followers from incorporating an anti-poverty society.

The Bluffton council has passed the natural gas ordinance presented by the R. C. Bell syndicate. The town will be supplied this coming summer from Montpelier.

Eliza J. Chamberlain sues Richard C. Chamberlain to recover a mortgage bond issued by the Pittsburg railroad company and $100 damages. R. S. Robertson is attorney for the plaintiff.

An item yesterday stated that the young woman who let herself out of a second story window in the Ewing hall was Miss Ollie Oryler. The police assure us the courageous girl was Kittie Johnson, a wayward lass about town. This is the name inscribed on the police records and is possibly correct as it is sworn to.

MITCHELL ARRESTED

The Pugilist Arrested on the Charge of Arranging a Prize Fight With Slugger Sullivan.

LONDON, March 2.—Mitchell, the pugilist, was summoned before a local magistrate at Chertsy to-day to answer to the charge of arranging for a prize fight with Sullivan. Mitchell disavowed any intention to break the peace in England. He was bound over in the sum of £200.

A BIG WRECK.

A Local Freight Train on the Grand Rapids Road Comes to Grief.

Just before noon to-day, while the local freight was coming into the city from the north, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana road, it met with disaster, a mile or a mile and a half north of Fort Wayne.

As the train approached an over-head bridge near the city, the rear trucks of the fourth car from the locomotive broke from their fastenings and, like a flash, nine cars were piled in a mountain-like heap.

Billy Van Gorder, a brakesman, was caught in the broken cars and miraculously escaped being crushed to death. As it was his legs were pinched and an ankle is out of place. He is at his home on Chicago street, under the care of Dr. Meyers.

The train carries passengers and in the caboose were ten or twelve travelers, mostly from Huntertown and Wallen.

Mr. W. W. Shoaff, of Huntertown, was thrown violently against the car stove and the bones of his nose were broken. His face was cut. The other passengers were spilled about, but escaped harm.

The loss is severe and causes a blockade.

The engine and broken car ran over the road bridge safely. Had the break occurred on the bridge, an awful accident could not have been averted.

THE "JOURNAL."

Dr. L. S. Null Empowered to Sell the Paper.

This morning Dr. L. S. Null was appointed administrator of the estate of the late Sam Miller and filed his bond and qualified as such. He has been acting as special administrator.

According to application Judge O'Rourke empowered Dr. Null to offer for sale the 144 shares of the Journal stock owned by Mr. Miller. No date for the sale is fixed.

The paper is negotiating for a lease of the Napp building, at the corner of East Berry and Clinton street.

HOUSE BREAKING.

Supt. C. D. Law's Residence Broken Into.

Early this morning burglars entered the East Berry street residence of Supt. C. D. Law, of the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road, through a window and contented themselves by stealing a purse containing $4 from a table. Nothing else was missed.

Chief Diehl and Officer Lapp are on the trail of the thieving party.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Bids were opened at the navy department yesterday for furnishing sixteen inch gun lathes for the Washington navy yard. The following are the lowest bids: For six lathes, the Niles tool works, Hamilton, Ohio, $100,800; for three lathes, Bement mills, Philadelphia, $117,500; for seven lathes, Binsse & Hanschild, Harrison, N. Y., $100,000.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2.—Mr. McKinley, of Ohio, secured the unanimous consent to have printed in record a memorial signed by the glass blowers, protesting against the reduction of the duty upon imported window glass as proposed by the Mills tariff bill.

A Brakeman Hurt.

Charley Sherman McClure, a brakeman on the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road, was badly crushed between two cars while making a coupling at Van Wert, last night. His collar bone was broken and his internal injuries are severe.

He is now under Dr. C. B. Stemen's care at the St. Joe hospital.

Sim Coy, one of the Indianapolis tally sheet forgers, is seriously ill in the jail there, and cannot be taken to the penitentiary.

E. A. K. HACKETT, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1888.

COL. C. C. MATSON, Capt. William R. Myers, and Senator Alonzo Green Smith are the avowed democratic candidates for governor.

THE prohibitionists of Indiana will nominate their state ticket on the 15th of March. Rev. W. H Hickman is strongly talked of for governor.

THE Hendricks' club, of Indianapolis, and the Duckworth club, of Cincinnati, will attend the national democratic convention at St. Louis. They will participate in the nomination of the next president.

THE tariff bill reported by Chairman Mills to the ways and means committee reduces the revenue on tariff articles $55,000,000; on internal revenue, $25,000,000. In discussing it, no delegations, or others not members of the committee, will be heard. It will go to the house in three weeks, probably.

SENATOR TURPIE made his maiden speech in the United States senate the other day in favor of the dependent pension bill as advocated and endorsed by the G. A. R. national encampment. It was a magnificent, logical, honest appeal for the veterans of the civil war. Indiana made no mistake in sending Senator Turpie to the national legislature. The people have in him a great friend and champion.

THE democratic central committee of Wells county convened at Bluffton Saturday, with a large attendance of enthusiastic democrats. The committee fixed Saturday, March 24th, as the time for holding a primary election to select candidates for representative, treasurer, sheriff, surveyor, commissioner and coroner. It also appointed delegates to the coming state, congressional and judicial conventions. The delegates were instructed to cast their respective votes for Captain Wm. R. Myers for governor and Hon. J. S. Daily for judge.

WE commend the resolutions of the Business Men's exchange to the thoughtful consideration of the members of the city council. They court good feeling, express a just preference for the Jenney tower lighting system and show that the council can adopt it without inviting cheap competition, because there is nothing that approaches its perfection in the world. THE SENTINEL feels that every councilman has the very best interests of the city at heart and will vote to retain in this city a manufacturing institution that contributes so largely to the progress of Fort Wayne, the prosperity of its people and an industry that will more than make up on the tax duplicate for any advantage or saving that could be accomplished by adopting a cheap, inferior light. This matter is now down to a business principle that we have at home a light, matchless in brilliancy, matchless in its tower system of lighting, matchless from an economical standpoint, because there is not a company on the face of the earth that has the tower appliances to light the city of Fort Wayne with less than five times the number of lamps the Jenney company employs. The council is given every credit for its precaution in letting contracts and can now justify itself in the light of day and in a manner that will exalt the municipal body in the estimation of all the people.

An Outside Opinion.

The Toledo Bee says: "The Fort Wayne council has declined to contract with the Jenney Electric company of that city for electric lighting, the Ball company, a foreign corporation, having underbid the home company about $500 on an aggregate of 128 lamps. It is claimed that this will result in the removal of the Jenney works from Fort Wayne, as the managers declare they could not expect to secure a contract for putting in an electric plant, where it is known that they do not light their own city. If this removal follows, the $500 saved by the city will be very expensive money, as the works employ several hundred hands and add much to the business of the city.

A Kendallville Enterprise.

The Kendallville Manufacturing company was incorporated yesterday at Indianapolis. Its capital stock is $150,000. The object of the company is to manufacture and sell sash, doors, blinds and all kinds of building material. The directors for the first year are John Mitchell, Henry Amman, Henry S. Kimmel, George W. Uhl and John Shifely.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The Railroads and Shops of the City Touched Gently for Their Daily Budget of News.

Railroad travel was very light to-day.

The Wabash shops turned out a repaired locomotive yesterday.

Joseph Bennigan has taken a position in the Pittsburg machine shops.

E. L. McCamlay, a moulder in the Bass foundry, is on the sick list.

Harry Farmon, a machinist in the Pennington works, is on the sick list.

The Pennington pulley works have placed in position a new engine and boiler.

The Wabash shops have commenced running the new furnace in the blacksmith department.

W. J. Knight, who lectures at the Sion S. Bass post to-night, was formerly an engineer on the Pittsburg.

Carl Baumann, a machinist in the Pennington works, left for Cincinnati last night, where he has secured a position.

August Franke, the second engineer at the water works pumping house, is rejoicing over the arrival of a new boy at his home.

The men in the shops discuss the Burlington strike and the electric light question and take opposite sides on both subjects.

John Daley, the popular macninist in the Bass foundry, is on the sick list. "Jack," as he is familiarly called, is missed at the shop greatly.

Mr. Howard Northrop, northwestern agent for the American Transit company, is in the city, the guest of W. S. Morse, master mechanic for the Wabash.

Although manufacturing business active in the city, there is not a demand for laborers at present. This may come, however, as the season advances.

W. H. O'Beirne, superintendent of the Star Iron Tower company, left last night for New Orleans to superintend the construction of the system of tower lights to be established in that city by the Jenney company.

The contractors have signed the agreement submitted by the stone masons and brick layers, and the strike is at an end. By the new schedule masons get 35 cents per hour for a day of nine hours, within a radius of three miles from the court house.

The Bass foundry have placed in position a new time service board for the employes who work on the east side of Lafayette street, which includes the moulding rooms and the blacksmith shops. George Darker and Arthur Dougall will have charge of it.

This morning, when Ticket Agent Douglass and Baggage Master Brooks made their appearance at the Wabash depot, as is their custom every morning, for the 5 o'clock train, they found the passenger room filled with emigrants. They had alighted from a Pittsburg train and were on their way west and, Brooks says, they had enough baggage in the way of baskets, boxes, etc. to start a young hotel. They boarded the first Wabash train west and are now on their road to their future American homes some place in the great west.

An item appeared in this column Wednesday in reference to a box of carpenter tools, belonging to Michael Huntine, of the Wabash pumping service, having been stolen by some person from the depot at this place. The publication of the item led to the discovery of the box. This morning Foreman Mommer, of the Kerr Murray foundry, who had read the item in THE SENTINEL, returned the box of tools to Baggagemaster Brooks. He had found it in the yards of the foundry, where it had evidently been left by the rascals who had stolen it and found it too heavy to be carried further in their flight. They had broken the hinges and in this way had been able to be investigate the contents. The tools did not suit them, for none of them appear to be missing. Mr. Huntine has been notified of the recovery of his tools and will appear to claim them.

CAUGHT IN FORT WAYNE.

Important Arrest of the Photograph Swindler, E. S. Hall.

THE SENTINEL yesterday briefly referred to the arrest of a Cincinnati swindler by Officer Sheridan. The Enquirer has this account of his capers.

Detective Eddie Moses left yesterday morning for Fort Wayne, Ind., armed with a warrant for the arrest of E. S. Hall, a swindler who cut a wide swath while in this city, fleecing dozens of people. He was engaged as a canvasser of books and pictures, and as such managed to swindle both his employers and his customers. His last situation here was with R. S. Fulton, an artist, in business at 193 Elm street, where he copies and enlarges photographs. Hall acted as his agent and secured a great many bogus orders on which he received a good commission.

Bogus names and addresses were given, and as it was subsequently developed the photographs submitted were bought at a gallery.

A warrant was issued for his arrest, but he got wind of the fact and left town. A few days ago, Superintendent Deitsch learned that he was in Fort Wayne, and located him by telegraph. Yesterday his arrest was ordered, and the detectives started on the first train for that point to bring him back. He will be charged with embezzlement.

That Tired Feeling

Afflicts nearly every one in the spring. The system having become accustomed to the bracing air of winter, is weakened by the warm days of the changing season, and readily yields to attacks of disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed. It tones and builds up every part of the body, and also expels all impurities from the blood. Try it this season.

English Method of Netting Birds.

Larks as a rule have a habit of roosting on stubble fields, when such are available, and later on repair for the most part to fallow lands, or occasionally open heaths and moors, preference being generally given to fallow, and it is here that "trammeling" is most generally carried on. The dimensions of the nets vary; but the average is: Length, thirty-six yards; breadth, five or six feet; and mesh, either an inch or three-quarters; two light poles some six or seven feet long (bamboo for choice, and fitted together like the joints of a fishing rod) complete the arrangements. The plan of procedure is simple in the extreme; to work the trammel the services of two men are required, one at each end, and a third usually accompanies the others, carrying a sack to hold the birds. The ground to be operated upon is decided on beforehand, also the direction in which each field shall be worked, this, of course, depending in a great measure on the conformation of the surface, and more still on the direction of the wind. Having arrived at the spot where it is proposed to make a start, the net is extended to its full lenght flat on the ground, the poles being attached to either end, and all is ready to commence operations. The poles, when the net is at work, are held by the workers in such a manner that the bottom end of each just touches the ground and the upper is depressed sufficiently to make the intervening stretch of net cover the area immediately beneath, without the top edge brushing; the bottom or tail, on the other hand, trails along its entire length, and the rushing noise thus created causes the birds to rise. In theory, to do this seems absurdly easy; but, like throwing a fly or hitting the leader of a team in the exact right spot, it requires no small amount of practice to attain proficiency. The poleman must move forward in perfect time and step, otherwise the net will "bag" and become altogether unmanageable; in the same way it must be dropped smartly and simultaneously at both ends when a bird or birds "strike;" above all, the exact extent of the field being worked must be known to a nicety, so as to allow the pivot man time to make the wheel when the end is reached without getting "tangled up." A couple of adepts will frequently secure fifteen or twenty dozen birds in a night, by no means unremunerative business, whereas two novices would probably not capture a dozen all told. According to Dr. Lister, who occupied the position of physician-in-chief to Queen Anne, the lark, when eaten either boiled or roasted, "helps the colic." How far the theory may be correct we are unable to say, but no one who has tasted the dainty will, we fancy, be inclined to deny that, either in aspic or roast, a dish of larks is fit to set before a king.—Pall Mall Gazette.

SKATING is of great antiquity. It is first mentioned in a work entitled the "Edda," written 800 years ago.

WHERE THE MUSTACHE GROWS.

Against adversity it is advised "to keep a stiff upper lip," and as that is where the mustache grows, such advice strictly followed would lead to a display of bristles. It is much more important to keep a stout spinal column, for there the burdens fall on the physical man. Nature is never at fault, and where such stress comes she provides supports. It is the fault of the individual who, through negligence, exposure or imprudence, brings on a collapse of these supports. Everyone knows how the stitch in the back comes, but everyone doesn't know the promptest and surest way to catch it up and cure it permanently. The experiments of those who know the secret are worth recording. Mr. Frank Monroe, Francisville, Ill., January 30, 1887, says: "Three years ago had rheumatism in the back (lumbago) so bad I could not dress myself. One bottle of St. Jacobs Oil cured me, and I have not felt it since." Mr. J. W. Meirs, 28 Rock street, Lowell, Mass., February, 1887, writes: "Three years ago was taken with pains in back, hips and legs; could not turn in bed except by help of headboard; applied St. Jacobs Oil several times to my back. In three days I was sound and limber. Have not had return since, though I had been subject to spells for many years." Mr. Jacob Mueller, Maysville, Wis., February, 1887, writes: "In '84 was troubled with an awful backache, and suffered some time. St. Jacobs Oil cured me permanently; no return." Mr. E. W. Elliott, Ludington, Mich., February 3, 1887, states: "My wife had not stooped in ten years to button her shoe; she suffered intensely with lame back. She tried St. Jacobs Oil; four bottles cured her, and she has had no trouble in six or seven years." Mr. Horace E. Hopkis, New Albany, Indiana, writes, June 10, 1887: "Suffered two years ago with acute pains in the back, also a slight touch of pleurisy. In one hour obtained great relief from St. Jacobs Oil; three applications cured me. In the morning pains were gone and have had no recurrence of it since." May 17, 1887, Mr. A. A. Cunningham, Perryopolis, Pa., writes; "My wife was sorely afflicted with lame back; suffered several years. She used innumerable liniments and plasters without relief; used St. Jacobs Oil, and she was cured by it." The maxim ought to be, keep a straight, strong back, and the rest of the anatomy will be strong also.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.
Jan. 19-eodawly.

Tortured By Fashion.

"A few days after my arrival at school," Mrs. Summerfield tells us in her memoirs, "although perfectly straight and well made, I was inclosed in stiff stays, with a steel busk in front, while above my frock bands drew my shoulders back till the shoulder-blades met. Then a steel rod with a semi-circle, which went under my chin, was clasped to the steel busk in my stays. In this constrained state I and most of the younger girls had to prepare our lessons;" and in the life of Miss Edgeworth we read that, being sent to a certain establishment, "she underwent all the usual tortures of back-boards, iron collars, and dumbs, and also (because she was a very tiny person) the usual one of being hanged up by the neck to draw out the muscles and increase the growth," a signal failure in her case. Indeed, instances of absolute mutilation and misery are so common in the past that it is unnecessary to multiply them, but it is really sad to think that in our own day a civilized woman can hang onto a cross-bar while her maid laces her waist into a fifteen-inch circle.—Woman's World.

SKIN SO ALP BLOOD.

Having been a sufferer for two years and I half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the Cuticura Remedies when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. Finley, (to whom I shall ever feel grateful), spoke to me about Cuticura, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the State. The Cuticura Remedies are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to druggist John P. Finley and Dr. D. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake, Miss.
ALEXANDER BEACH, Greenville, Miss.
Mr. Beach used the Cuticura Remedies, at our request, with results as above stated.
A. B. FINLAY & CO., Druggist.

SAVED MY MOTHER'S LIFE.

Ever since I can remember, my mother has suffered from a milk leg. Nothing would do her any good. She had the best medical talent, but they all did her no good. She suffered with her leg for thirty years and never knew a well day. She would have to sit up half the night, holding up her leg and moaning. She had no peace. She used all the best known remedies in the country, without effect. I asked her to try your Cuticura Remedies. Got her a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles and now she is a well woman today. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot help stating to you about your wonderful Cuticura Remedies. You have saved my mother's life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude. I have advertised your Cuticura Remedies far and near.
EDWARD LUEDER, 1805 Broadway, N. Y.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar to us are symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of Sanford's Radical Cure for Catarrh will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh is yes but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing acchted, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvelous curative power of Sanford's Radical Cure manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

A Boon

To mankind, said a member of the State Medical Society of Ga., at one of its meetings, "and the prescription ought to be given to the medical fraternity for the benefit of the Profession, for as such combination exists in the Pharmacopea as that of Simmons Liver Regulator." The late THOS. H. POWERS, of Philadelphia, America's greatest chemist, asserted "it was like the discovery of Dover, in his celebrated Dover's Powder, it could not be improved and it was wonderfully strange that the combination had never been made in an officinal form."

L. M. HINTON, M. D., Washington, Ark., says: "No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmons Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the Liver to action and at the same time aid (instead of weakening) the digestive powers."

Symptoms such as bitter or bad taste in the mouth; pain in the back, often mistaken for Rheumatism; sour stomach; loss of appetite; bowels alternately costive and lax; headache; loss of memory, with a painful sensation of having failed to do something which ought to have been done; debility; low spirits; a thick yellow appearance of the skin and eyes; a dry cough often mistaken for Consumption, indicate Liver disease, and if not regulated in time great suffering, wretchedness and death will often ensue.

Price $1. Sold by all Druggists. Prepared by J. H. ZEILIN & Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

WHAT AILS YOU?

Do you feel dull, languid, low-spirited, lifeless, and indescribably miserable, both physically and mentally; experience a sense of fullness or bloating after eating, or of "goneness," or emptiness of stomach in the morning, tongue coated, bitter or bad taste in mouth, irregular appetite, dizziness, frequent headaches, blurred eyesight, "floating specks" before the eyes, nervous prostration or exhaustion, irritability of temper, hot flushes, alternating with chilly sensations, sharp, biting, transient pains here and there, cold feet, drowsiness after meals, wakefulness, or disturbed and unrefreshing sleep, constant, indescribable feeling of dread, or of impending calamity?

If you have all, or any considerable number of these symptoms, you are suffering from that most common of American maladies—Bilious Dyspepsia, or Torpid Liver, associated with Dyspepsia, or Indigestion. The more complicated your disease has become, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. No matter what stage it has reached, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will subdue it, if taken according to directions for a reasonable length of time. If not cured, complications multiply and Consumption of the Lungs, Skin Diseases, Heart Disease, Rheumatism, Kidney Disease, or other grave maladies are quite liable to set in and, sooner or later, induce a fatal termination.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery acts powerfully upon the Liver, and through that great blood-purifying organ, cleanses the system of all blood-taints and impurities, from whatever cause arising. It is equally efficacious in acting upon the Kidneys, and other excretory organs, cleansing, strengthening, and healing their diseases. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it promotes digestion and nutrition, thereby building up both flesh and strength. In malarial districts, this wonderful medicine has gained great celebrity in curing Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Dumb Ague, and kindred diseases.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

CURES ALL HUMORS,

from a common Blotch, or Eruption, to the worst Scrofula. Salt-rheum, "Fever-sores," Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine. Great Eating Ulcers rapidly heal under its benign influence. Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Eczema, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Hip-joint Disease, "White Swellings," Goitre, or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands. Send ten cents in stamps for a large Treatise, with colored plates, on Skin Diseases, or the same amount for a Treatise on Scrofulous Affections.

"FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE."

Thoroughly cleanse it by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength and bodily health will be established.

CONSUMPTION,

which is Scrofula of the Lungs, is arrested and cured by this remedy, if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. From its marvelous power over this terribly fatal disease, when first offering this now world-famed remedy to the public, Dr. Pierce thought seriously of calling it his "CONSUMPTION CURE," but abandoned that name as too restrictive for a medicine which, from its wonderful combination of tonic, or strengthening, alterative, or blood-cleansing, anti-bilious, pectoral, and nutritive properties, is unequaled, not only as a remedy for Consumption, but for all Chronic Diseases of the Liver, Blood, and Lungs.

For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Chronic Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections, it is an efficient remedy.

Sold by Druggists, at $1.00, or Six Bottles for $5.00.

A CLEVER ADVENTURER.

How George Arnold Found Diamonds in Arizona—A Million Dollars Won by Cunning and Fraud.

Among the countless schemes to which the great banker Ralston, who loved to be called the "Financial King of the Pacific Coast," devoted no small share of the California bank, of which he was president, was the exploiting of mines in the pyramid range of mountains close to the border line which divides Arizona from New Mexico. This was in the early seventies, when speculation was rife and the discovery of bonanzas an every-day event.

Among the employes of Ralston in the Pyramid mines was one George Arnold, a man of meager education, but bright and ambitious. In his shanty on the wild mountain side and over his bacon and beans he was ever dreaming of some plan that would bring Dame Fortune at his waiting feet and shower upon him her princely favors. He saw men making fortunes by a single cast of the die and losing them by a single throw. While yet dreaming his dream of wealth there came to him the bright-colored story of the great diamond discoveries of Cape Colony. His teeming brain at once devised a scheme which, in his way, equaled Law's South Sea bubble. He had grown unscrupulous in his desire, and had come to believe that with him, at least, the end justified the means.

The soil around the Pyramid district was rich in color, and had character enough to inaugurate any mining scheme, however wild and impracticable. So, with a comrade, Jim Haggerty, with whom he had long associated, Arnold made long tours over the surrounding country. After a few weeks of this kind of work, he resigned his place in the mines with the given intention of seeking the fairer fields of Mexico.

He then turned up in San Francisco in the fall of 1871. He immediately found Ralston, and astonished even that bold operator by revealing that he had discovered in Arizona rich diamond fields quite as extensive as those of Cape Colony. From the gripsack he had brought with him he poured forth a wondrous display of rough diamonds which had been washed from the yielding soil of the new field. They were many and apparently of value.

Ralston, ever ready for a venture, especially one which promised such dazzling results, entered at once into a proposed exploration of the new diamond-fields. He introduced Arnold to several leading capitalists who at once became enthusiastic over the new Golconda. With the rapid action peculiar to Californians, the clique who had been led into the secret immediately determined to visit the mines, and if found to be all right to purchase Arnold's claims and titles for the modest but snug sum of $1,000,000. Arnold reluctantly accepted the offer.

In due course of time the party of capitalists interested left San Francisco for the promised land. At Camp Ralston, the headquarters of the Pyramid mining speculation, the eager capitalists were met by Arnold and Haggerty, the latter being introduced as a sort of side partner, like the silent mariner of the admiral of H. M. S. Pinafore. The two worthies were to conduct Ralston and his associates to the diamond-fields.

The party was led by a route as zigzag as a snake fence and as rough as a corduroy road. Part of the way was along the Gila River to where the Rio Prieto empties into it. At this point the eyes of the jaded capitalistic visitors were carefully blindfolded and their animals were led by the guides for some distance further. When they were permitted to see daylight again they were in the midst of a clump of trees which stood on the river's bank. They were given shovels and picks and told to dig anywhere about the clump of trees. Each of the visitors did so, and each in turn brought out one or more of the precious stones they sought for. They were everywhere, and the millionaire miners wiped the clinging soil from off their hands softly, as though it was a sacred deposit.

On their return to San Francisco the capitalists wished to form a company. In ten days it was accomplished. Arnold was paid his $1,000,000 and made superintendent of the new mines. He at once made known the location of the diamond-fields, and they were visited by several stockholders in the company. Diamonds were found by each and all of them, and all went merry as a marriage bell until Arnold skipped for the East.

It was then thought best to call an expert, and Prof. King, the well-known geologist, was selected. He first discovered that the ground around the clump of trees had been cleverly "salted" with refuse diamonds, such as may be cheaply bought in the marts at Amsterdam. It was also found that the diamonds found by the capitalists had been "tried" at Amsterdam, and, as Prof. King said: "While diamonds may exist in Arizona, it is hardly to be expected that nature will produce them partly cut or polished."

The members of the new diamond company were both thunderstruck and indignant, and steps were quickly taken to bring Arnold to justice. He was at his home in his native Kentucky, and the machinery of the law was brought to bear upon him there. He was arrested, but was never taken out of the Blue-Grass country for punishment. In some manner he secured his release, and entered upon a life of wild enjoyment. His excesses were of short duration, and after five years of feasting and rioting with ill-gotten wealth, his life went out.

The Man Did All He Could.

Just this side of Bloomington a baby in the rear of the car began to cry. He was a lusty-lunged little fellow, and made more noise than half a dozen babies ought to have. The passengers turned—a good many of them with no pleasant expression on their faces—to investigate. They found a man holding the little one, and doing his best to quiet him. There was no woman in sight. That was what the sufferer wanted—a woman—his mother—to drive away all his little troubles and soothe him into quiet slumber. The man did all he could. He was a large, benevolent-looking man, with a sad, melancholy expression and a world of tenderness in his eyes as he looked down at the little bundle of humanity and rocked it to and fro. But the baby refused to be comforted and screamed the louder. So it went for a dozen miles. The other passengers were growing impatient, and two or three of them got up and went forward. There was a touch of sympathy in some faces, but more bore a scowl. Neither seemed to make any difference with the baby—he screamed louder, if anything, as the train spod on. The man who had held him was weary, but still he bent over his little charge and sought in low words—clumsy baby talk—to hush his weeping. There was a man in the next seat in front—a cold, hard-featured man—who had been disturbed in reading a book. Half a dozen times he turned and looked at the man working with the baby. Each time he glanced with a deeper scowl. Still the other strove to soothe the little one. "There, there, don't oo cry so! Maybe oor mamma——" He stopped.

"If you can't keep that howling brat of yours still," said the hard-featured man as he turned in his seat, "you'd better chuck it out the window!"

The man with the baby glanced up surprised, pained. For the space of half a minute he looked the other full in the eye, and then he leaned forward and with a voice choking with emotion said:

"This young one isn't mine! A dodgasted woman gave it to me to hold while she made a fool trip forward to the baggage car to see if they'd got her trunk, and I guess she's never coming back! But I'll be dashed if you can run on me!" And he dumped the baby down in one end of the seat, and, with an altogether different look in his eye, jumped out in the isle and got the hard-featured man by the collar, and jammed him down on the floor between the seats, and got up on him with both feet, and took hold of the hat-rack with his hands, and raised himself up and dropped back on the hard-featured man till he had the features pretty well softened up. And it appeared quite as if he would have been going up and down like a pile-driver yet, if the woman who owned the baby hadn't flounced back into the car and rescued the infant and quieted him in about ten seconds, and told him in a loud, clear voice that she didn't know she'd left her little, darling, pwescious baby boy with a great, big, ugly prize-fighter. Then the benevolent man quit jumping and went and sat down in another seat with his face very red, while the hard-featured party crawled up looking as if he would have to carry his features in a sling for three weeks.—Fred H. Carruth.

Almost miraculous are some of the cures accomplished by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In the case of R. L. King, Richmond, Va., who suffered for 47 years with an aggravated form of scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla effected astonishing results.

William H. Seward in a Texas.

The term "texas," applied to the hurricane deck of a steamboat, had its origin on the Mississippi in 1845. When boats were first built the pilot house was placed on the hurricane deck. Finally, in the above-mentioned year, the pilot house was placed up higher, and underneath it was made a room or two, with about six or eight berths in it.

When a tough passenger came on board and had sufficient money to pay his cabin fare, the clerk, not wishing to put him among the cabin passengers, gave him a bunk in this little cabin, and sometimes it would be filled with some of the worst roughs in the country. Finally the officers of the boat, owing to the toughness of the room, christened it Texas, after the State of Texas, which at that time was noted for its wild cowboys, robbers, and the like. Boats of late years, and especially the large ones, are built with a full-length texas, which is occupied by the officers and crew.

A good story is told of a bluff old river captain and the great American statesman, the late William H. Seward. In the presidential campaign of 1860 Seward made a trip up the Mississippi as far as St. Paul, in the interest of Lincoln. He took passage for the northwest at Burlington on one of the finest sidewheelers of the day, and, at his own request, was given a berth the first night in the texas, which happened to be filled with revolvers. On the following morning, in the hearing of the Captain, he soundly berated the officers of the boat to a political friend, who accompanied him, for allowing a party of drunken men to infringe upon the rights and destroying the peace of the rest of the passengers.

The master of the boat, who did not know that the speaker was Seward, and would not have been at all mealy-mouthed if he had, turned upon him and bluntly told him that he was Captain of that boat, and that if he didn't like the way things were conducted on it he might go to h—ll. "Go to h—ll, sir," replied Seward, with great vehemence. "I have already been there, sir. I slept in the texas last night."

It is related that when the Captain found out who his passenger was, although a staunch Douglas man, he cleaned the texas of its noisy gang of occupants and gave it to Seward the remainder of the trip, and that the two "made it up" between them over a bottle of Kentucky whisky and some rare Havanas.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

A purgative medicine should possess tonic and curative, as well as cathartic properties. This combination of ingredients may be found in Ayer's Pills. They strengthen and stimulate the bowels, causing natural action.

The American Waiter.

The American waiter is a source of constant study to me whenever I am on my travels, and at no other time is he so interesting to me as when he has to deal with the lone woman at the hotel. I have been watching him, and I have seen the lone woman come into the dining-room, sit down at the table and starve to death, while everybody else—that is, every man body—who came in after her got their orders promptly served. The lone woman—or any woman, in fact—does most mortally hate to "tip" a waiter or a porter when she is paying full rates anyhow. She won't do it if she can possibly exist without it, and when she does give a fee, it is usually five cents, and ten cents she considers an enormous, and princely gratuity. The waiter and the hall-boy and the porter all know this, and consequently the lone woman, while she is never insulted, and is treated with the utmost show of politeness and with genuine courtesy at the desk, is quietly ignored by the servants, and her hotel and railway lines have fallen in stony places. This "tipping" business has grown to be an outrageous nuisance even in these United States. Our citizens who travel abroad bring home the evil habit, commercial travelers and people in all lines of the dramatic professions are much given to it, and it is beginning to be so that you are rather neglected without it. Frequently in good hotels where all the help is well paid the servant will remind you that he expects to be "remembered." A few weeks ago I ran into Harrisburg, left my family at a hotel, arranging for them to meet me at another point in two days, as the intervening runs were too hard for the Prince. I got up at 2 a. m., carried my valise down stairs, never saw hide nor wool of a porter, and went my ways. Two days later, when the family came away, a freedman, whose shackles had been removed by mistake, lurking about to carry what few articles the guest could not take, told my sister that he had waited on me constantly, and that I said I would give him half a dollar when I came back. She gave the bragand fifty cents. I haven't been back there yet, but I am going. My work has been quite exhausting this season, and I need recreation; so I have promised myself the pleasure of attending a colored funeral.—Bob Burdette.

Martyrs to Headache

Seek relief in vain, until they begin to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Then they regret the years of suffering they might have escaped had they tried this remedy earlier. The trouble was constitutional not local; and, until Ayer's Sarsaparilla did its effective work as an Alterative and Blood Purifier, they were compelled to suffer.

The wife of Samuel Page, 21 Austin st., Lowell, Mass., was, for a long time, subject to severe headaches, the result of stomach and liver disorders. A perfect cure has been effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frank Roberts, 727 Washington st., Boston, says that he formerly had terrible headaches, and until he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla, never found any medicine that would give Permanent Relief.

"Every Spring, for years," writes Lizzie W. DeVeau, 262 Fifteenth st., Brooklyn, N. Y., "I have had intolerable headaches. I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla last March, and have not had a headache since that time."

"I suffered from headache, indigestion, and debility, and was hardly able to drag myself about the house," writes Mrs. M. M. Lewis, of A st., Lowell, Mass. "Ayer's Sarsaparilla has worked a marvelous change in my case. I now feel strong and well as ever."

Jonas Garman, Esq., of Lykins, Pa., writes: "For years I have suffered dreadfully, every Spring, from headache, caused by impurity of the blood and biliousness. It seemed for days and weeks that my head would split open. Nothing relieved me till I took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has cured me completely."

When Mrs. Genevra Balanger, of 24 Bridge st., Springfield, Mass., began to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, she had suffered for some years from a serious affection of the kidneys. Every Spring, also, she was afflicted with headache, loss of appetite, and indigestion. A friend persuaded her to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which benefited her wonderfully. Her health is now perfect. "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Laugh with "Karl."

Twenty-eight more days of Lent.

The clever German comedian, Mr. Chas. A. Gardner, presents "Karl" at the Temple to-night.

Kyle Gaskill has traded his farm at Roanoke to Mr. Chase, of Fort Wayne, for property in this city. A son of the latter will move on the farm in a week or two.

Master Mechanic Morris, of this city, was in Andrews this week, in consultation with the firemen in regard to important changes that will take place in the near future.

Miss Georgie Boyd and Miss Eva Lauferty, of this city, attended a very brilliant reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Funk, at Warsaw, Wednesday evening last.

The Northeastern Indiana Baptist association will hold its third quarterly session, in the church, at Kendallville, commencing this evening, March 2, and continuing over Sunday.

Dr. White Cloud will give an entertainment, consisting of his grand Indian exhibition, at Curry's hall, Bluffton, next Monday evening for the benefit of Lew Dailey post, No. 33, G. A. R.

Rev. T. J. Bacher and wife, Mrs. Paulus and Mrs. McCulloch and Miss Kittie Ross have gone to Nottawa, Mich., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Schermerhorn, formerly of this city.

"Karl" will be presented by the popular dialect comedian, Chas. A. Gardner, who is a most felicitous actor, a clever dialectician and a good singer. His songs are a very agreeable feature of the performance.

The Huntington Democrat says: "Judgment for the defendants was given in the case of Edward Ely, commissioner of drainage, vs. Margaret S. Smith et al. An appeal to the supreme court was taken."

R. R. Y. M. C. A. cottage meeting in Bloomingdale this evening at the home of Mr. Bert Allen, corner of St. Mary avenue and Hoffman street, at 7:30, standard time. A cordial invitation extended to all.

The Morse house at Angola burned yesterday morning. Loss, $6,000; insurance, in the Phoenix, of Brooklyn, $1,500; in the Indiana, of Indianapolis, $1,000. Mr. Morse, the owner of the hotel, is the father of Mrs. R. T. McDonald, of this city.

The Warsaw district conference of the M. E. church, at Roann, Wabash county, closed last Wednesday. The attendance was quite large. This was the last meeting of the district conference, the last annual conference having legislated it out of existence. Arrangements were made for holding a National association meeting, at Columbia City, in October.

The residents of Jackson street were somewhat surprised last evening to see Lew Meisheimer on a bicycle. People in that vicinity will gradually become accustomed to the sight and shold not move away. The above is a pointer to the L. A. W. to get this disciple of Faust into the league, as printers who can buy bicycle are very scare in Hoosierdom.

Several years ago Charles Battelle and wife moved to Peru and the husband found employment running an engine on the Wabash railway. When the Wabash gave up the Indianapolis, Peru and Chicago shops there and abandoned so many trains Batelle was thrown out of work, and had no steady job since. Wednesday he shot himself through the heart, in despair.

The Kendallville News says: "Mason Long, the reformed gambler of Fort Wayne, is a member of the Baptist church of that city, and is one of the most liberal financial supporters belonging to that body. If there is a hundred dollars to be raised for church purposes, Mr Long always gives $25, and at all church socials where ten cents is collected, he always puts $1 upon the plate and his wife does the same."

Mrs. Charles Hanna and daughter, Miss Carrie, of this city, have returned from Europe, and are now visiting in New York.

The sidewalks on Creighton avenue are in a bad condition and residents say they are compelled to wade through mud ankle deep.

Railroad cottage meeting will be held, this evening, at the home of Bert Allen, in Bloomingdale, corner St. Mary's avenue and Hoffman street, at 7:30 o'clock, standard time.

An Andrews correspondent says: "Mrs. and Miss Wasserbeck, of Fort Wayne, were the guests of Mrs. A. W. Leach Sunday."

Hon. Henry Monning was named as executor of the last will of the late Martin Noll, the provisions of which The Sentinel gave yesterday.

Mr. L. M. Penmman, manager of extensive lumber interests in this city, has returned from a trip to Scotland, and his friends are glad to greet him.

John McCain, the ex-proprietor of the Home billiard hall, is at Portland, Oregon, where he interviewed former Fort Wayne citizens for money and clothes.

Mr. J. F. Wing, the architect, is at Richmond, to confer with the directors of the feeble minded institute in regard to the new building, to be erected in this city.

The Indianapolis Sentinel says: "Mrs. I. D. G. Nelson, who has been an invalid for many months, will leave for St. Louis springs, Mich., in a day or so, in search of health."

W. H. O'Beirne, superintendent of the Star iron tower company, left last night for New Orleans to superintend the construction of the system of Jenney tower lights to be established in that city by the Fort Wayne company. Mrs. O'Beirne accompanied him, and both will be absent for at least one year.

The popular Turnverein met last night at Arion hall to hold its semi-annual election of officers. Following was the result: President, John Reuss; vice-president, Fred Koenig, sr.; secretary, Frank Zimmerman; treasurer, Peter Nussbaum; trustees, Chas. Thieme, G. Stauffer, C. Schaeler and F. Kratzsch.

The World Assurance company is doing a reckless insurance business in this city. It is said the concern is not legalized by the state authorities. If these charges are unfounded, Mr. Love, its manager, will have the benefit of an explanation. In the meantime The Sentinel warns the people to touch it lightly.

The Bluffton Bugle has this compliment for Dr. White Cloud: "Dr. White Cloud still continues to draw large and enthusiastic audiences to his big Indian and historical entertainments. This is the doctor's second week with us, and during his stay here he has sold upwards of 500 bottles of that wonderful Indian remedy Ka-ton-ka. It has done great good in this community, and has effected cures of long standing which the majority of people had given up as incurable. Dr. White Cloud goes to Fort Wayne from here, where he will probably remain for six weeks."

The Detroit News facetiously remarks that "the Michigan Central is about to provide its passenger engines with deep toned, sonorous whistles, like those used by steamboats, leaving the present shrill ones upon the freight locomotives. This is to tell a fellow, without looking up, whether his legs are being smashed by car loads of salt, hogs, lumber, groceries, junk, etc., or his limbs neatly severed by a string of drawing room cars. When a man is picked up by the nose of a cow-catcher and dropped into the next township it will be of interest to him to know by the boom or screech of the thing that hit him whether by getting off the track quickly and neatly he has saved the lives of a lot of fellow beings or only those of a few car loads of neat cattle."

SENSIBLE WORK.

Prominent Business Men Meet and Urge Their Wishes on the Council in a Manner That Will Do Good.

The rooms of the Business Men's exchange, on Clinton street, were filled to overflowing last night by the representative merchants, business men and citizens.

Mr. G. W. Seavy, the presiding officer, made a very fair explanation of the object of the meeting, saying it was called to counsel better judgment, not to censure anyone. He said the exchange aimed to build up, not to tear down. He was followed by Col. D. N. Foster, Mr. W. D. Page, Mr. A. S. Lauferty, Mr. E. T. Stringer, Mr. G. W. Wilson, Mr. S. M. Foster, Mr. Henry Colerick, Mr. M. V. B. Spencer and others in very temperate speeches. They all felt that when the citizens expressed a preference for the Jenney Star Tower electric light system, that the council would gladly co-operate with them. Everyone seemed to feel that the services of aldermen were not appreciated, and that their action in this case was to place themselves beyond criticism and suspicion.

It was made clear that there is not a better light in the world than the Jenney spark. Their Star iron tower system has not a match in the field and never will have. It suits the people of Fort Wayne and as there is but one Star iron tower system in the world, it was clearly the duty of the council to adopt it, because all the advertising they could do or all the competition they could solicit would not bring another tower lighting system to Fort Wayne.

Thus ran the talk of the evening. It counseled, rather than commanded. It acknowledged the honest purpose of the council and made it creditable for them to undo their work and vote the sentiment of thir constituents a thing The Sentinel believes everyone of them will do when they thoughtfully consider the following resolutions adopted by the exchange:

It is the opinion of the Business Men's exchange—organized solely with a view of aiding our city authorities and other citizens to accomplish such measures as are most certain to secure the rapid growth and prosperity of Fort Wayne—that the public interests almost invariably demand the letting of all public work by contract, after first advertising for bids, but

It is further our opinion: Occasionally there are circumstances so extraordinary that to carry out this rule would not only work a great hardship to our own people but would very materially damage the public interests which the members of the city council are most anxious to protect.

We believe the question of the electric lighting of our city by the Jenney company is one of those rare exceptions to the general rule we have stated. Organized as a home institution, entirely maintained by home capital, its immense and rapidly growing shops, employing hundreds of our skilled mechanics, bidding for its business from Maine to California, and compelling outside capital to pay an annual tribute of nearly half a million dollars to Fort Wayne thrift and enterprise, our city can well afford to deal with it justly and fairly.

We believe that investigation has shown that the proposed contract price of $136 per lamp, with the court house lights thrown in, is a very low, reasonable and equitable figure, and when it is also taken into consideration the fact that the local company alone controls the Star Iron Tower system, which we believe to be the cheapest, most economical and altogether the best system known for the lighting of cities and the only one that employes the lofty Star Iron Tower for the elevation of lights, we believe it not only right, but the duty of our council to give the contract to the Jenney company at the proposition offered, as also for the further reason that said company, in its proposed contract, agrees to furnish all such towers as the council may deem necessary without farther cost to the city; therefore.

Under these circumstances this exchange regrets the action of a majority of our city councilmen, at its last regular meeting, taken, as we believe, under a misapprehension of the law, in practically rejecting a contract, prepared by direction of that body at its previous meeting, with the Jenney Electric Light company, which provided for the extension, for three years, of the contract under which our city is now lighted; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a committee of five be appoited from the members of this exchange, whose duty it shall be to wait upon the individual members of the council, and present the views of this body and seek to induce a reconsideration of the action of the last council meeting, with a view to the acceptance of the contract with the Jenney company, as heretofore reported to the council.

This address was prepared by Messrs. W. D. Page, D. N. Foster and Henry Colerick.

The exchange also appointed Mr. W. D. Page, Mr. Fred Eckert, Mr. A. S. Lauferty, Mr. Fred Beach and Mr. S. M. Foster a committee to present the views and solicitations of the citizens to the members of the council.

THE METHODISTS.

Some Points Concerning Their Coming Conference—The Ministers Who Will be Returned to This City.

The annual session of the Northern Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held at Wabash on the 28th of this month and continue in session for one week. It is an event of importance to the Methodists of this district, and for this reason our religious reporter mingled among some of the people of that denomination last evening for the purpose of collecting some information in regard to it.

The conference will be presided over by Bishop S. M. Merrill, of Chicago, and will be composed of 128 ministers. It has many church matters to attend to, prominent among which is the assignment of ministers to charges. It is one of the peculiarities of the Methodist churches that all the assignments of ministers to charges are made by the annual conferences and this is done every year, so that a Methodist minister is liable to change his location every year. He is, however, almost always returned to his congregation for the second, and frequently for the third year. This is the limit of his stay, however, with any congregation and every third year the Methodist divine is compelled to go to a new home.

This will be the case this year with Rev. C. W. Lynch, the presiding elder of the Fort Wayne district, and Rev. F. G. Browne, the pastor of the Wayne street church. The former has for three years made his home in this city, but his term as presiding elder will expire with the meeting of the coming conference and he will be assigned a congregation at some place in the district. Rev. Browne will leave his prosperous congregation with many regrets on their part. For three years he has stood in the pulpit of the Wayne street church and preached the gospel to his people and but few ministers in the city can equal him in the power of his pulpit oratory or the influence he has exerted among them for good, but the law of the church is paramount to the wishes of a congregation and he will labor in other parts of the Lords vineyard after the closing of the present conference year.

Rev. C. W. Wilkinson, of the Simpson church, Rev. L. H. Murlin, of the Trinity church, and Rev. M. C. Cooper, of the St. Paul church, will be returned because they are just closing their first year. This will be a welcome return to the congregations of their respective churches. Rev. Wilkinson is popular with his people and his impressive pulpit oratory and stirring revivals have made him a great favorite with the congregation that worships at his church. Rev. Murlin and Rev. Cooper are young in the ministry, but they have endeared themselves to their congregations, who will welcome their return to the city for another year.

Rev. D. O. Woolpert, of the Berry street church, closes his second year with his congregation and will in all probability be returned. He has been very successful in his ministerial work in this city and his powerful sermons upon some of the popular evils of the day have deservedly earned him the reputation of being one of the best pulpit orators in the city. It is safe to say that the conference will return Rev. Woolpert for his third and last year to the congregation among whom he is so beloved and for whom he has worked so successfully in the Master's cause.

One of the duties of the Wabash conference will be to select four ministerial and two lay delegates to the general conference of the church, which meets in New York on the first of May in this year. Another question that may also come before them will be the increasing of the limit for which ministers may be returned to the same charge from three to four years. The conference will also decide upon the place of holding its next annual session. The contest will be between LaGrange and Richmond, with the probabilities in favor of the former place, as LaGrange will send a petition to the meeting signed by all the churches of that city, irrespective of denomination.

The churches of Fort Wayne will present a good report to the conference. Methodism, under the leadership of its present pastors, has had a prosperous year in this city. With its membership of over 1,000, the city will stand at the head of the list and to none will more honor be due than to those bold and fearless champions of right who have stood in their pulpits and battled sin at every point.
